

GERARD PLAYED FOR HIS STAND ON GERMANY'S CENSORSHIP

Morgen Post, Cologne Gazette
Launch Vigorous Attack
On U. S. Ambassador

ALLEGED ACTION IN PROTEST CASE RAPID

Papers Say Yankee Official Has No Right to Criticize Measures

BERLIN, Aug. 17.—A vigorous attack on American Ambassador Gerard today was made by the Berlin Morgen Post and the Cologne Gazette, influential German papers, for his attitude toward German censorship that he is alleged to have displayed in a confidential communication to the State Department.

In transmitting a protest from a merchant correspondent at Berlin against the British censorship, Ambassador Gerard is alleged to have recommended that no action be taken unless Germany removed its censorship of news sent to America.

"The American Government, and its organization, has endured many brutal English infringements," said the Morgen Post, "even the American representative and other neutral officials then demean themselves by giving up their neutrality honor as accomplices of England, so that it is possible that they will also endure this infringement and the attitude of their ambassador whereby this infringement is supported."

"We doubt whether the German Foreign Office will be satisfied with Ambassador Gerard's conduct. We hope that the government will find means of correcting his strange attitude. The German censorship does not concern him. He has not the right to criticize measures for the safety of German interests."

SLAYER OF MAN AND WOMAN KILLED SELF, BELIEF OF SLEUTHS

SEATTLE, Aug. 17.—Detectives today are searching near the University district for Frank Young, who shot and killed Miss Martin Antone and Jack Collingson. It is believed that Young took his own life as a result of the tragedy. The woman died at the Providence Hospital this morning.

WOMAN'S EXPERIENCE IN SHAKING HAND OF GOV. JOHNSON IS TOLD

SANTA CRUZ, Aug. 17.—"More than once have I touched the hand of Lincoln, and so I recognize, always,
the handshake of an honest man."

Thus does Mrs. Josephine Clifford McCrackin, pioneer literary woman of California and one of Mrs. Hart's associates in the early days of the "Overland Monthly," describe her experience in shaking hands with Governor Johnson on his recent visit to this city in his campaign for the Republican nomination for the United States senatorship.

CULINARY STRIKERS AT S. F. SEE VICTORY

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17.—With Mayor Rolph's arbitration plan shattered by the stand taken by the Chamber of Commerce, interests opposed to the "open shop" here prepared for a long fight. Archbishop Hanna expressed his willingness to listen to any further suggestions, but his letter yesterday to Mayor Rolph was not without effect. In that letter the archbishop said that he was willing to join the proposed arbitration board but declined to name other clergymen
as suggested by the mayor.

A. E. Steiner, secretary of the Cooks' Union, declared today that victory in the fight by the striking culinary workers is getting nearer every day.

PROTEST BLACKLIST, S. AMERICANS URGED

SANTIAGO, Chile, Aug. 17.—The newspaper Mercurio today urges Chile to join with other neutrals in protest of the British blacklist, emphasizing to England the extent of the damage being done Chile.

FAIR GROUNDS CHOSEN FOR HUGHES'S SPEECH

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 17.—Charles E.
Hughes, Republican candidate for president, will speak at the Exposition grounds next Monday. It was planned to have him appear at the municipal stadium, but the exposition was selected today. The gates will be thrown open free to all on that afternoon.

TEUTONS WIN ON 2 FRONTS, LOSE ON SOMME

LONDON, Aug. 17.—Strong Austro-German counter-attacks have halted
the Russian and Italian offensives temporarily, though the Somme battle is progressing favorably to the allies.

A new blow, for which the French and British artillery has been preparing the way for more than two days, was struck yesterday afternoon against the German front both north and south of the Somme. As a result Teuton trenches were carried on a two-mile front on both sides of the village of Maurepas to a depth of from 350 to 600 yards, while south of the river the German line three-quarters of a mile in length was seized by the French.

FRENCH WIN FURIOUS SOMME THRUST

PARIS, Aug. 17.—Beating back the enemy by a heavy assault, the French on both banks of the Somme have won new positions. The Germans are making no attempt to counter-attack against the positions the French conquered.

Like a gigantic multiplied sledge hammering the French army is smashing away at the German lines on the Somme battle front.

The new French offensive in no way resembles the Russian steam roller. Instead, it hammers continually blow upon blow at a given point until eventually, French army officers believe, both the German defenses and the German army must be knocked down.

The success of the steady hammering is demonstrated by both the actual advance and the number of prisoners taken by the French.

BERLIN, Aug. 17.—The Germans have driven back the Anglo-French forces that penetrated the German lines west of the Foreaux woods, inflicting heavy losses on the allies. It was officially announced today.

The statement admitted that the French gained a foothold on a 500-yard front.

The Germans, repulsing Russian attacks, have captured a hill at Staro-oznya in the Carpathians.

BRITISH IN FOREAUX WOODS VICTORS

LONDON, Aug. 17.—The British have made further gains, taking 300 yards of trenches in the Foreaux woods southwest of Guillemont, it was today officially announced.

7500 TEUTONS SEIZED BY RUSSIANS

PETROGRAD, Aug. 17.—The capture of 7500 prisoners by the Russians under General Sakharoff, today was officially announced.

'YALE' AND 'HARVARD' GO OVER TO NEW LINE

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 17.—The Pacific Navigation Company passed out of existence yesterday and in its stead comes the Pacific Alaska Navigation Company with a fleet of nine steamers of the "Admiral Line," plus the Harvard and the Yale, to link New York with the Pacific Coast as far north as Valdez and Kodiak, Alaska.

R. J. Ringwood, general manager of the Pacific Alaska Navigation Company, of Seattle, arrived yesterday and formally took over the company effects and business at a conference in the Pacific Navigation Company's office, Pacific Electric building.

"There will be no changes in the running schedule of the Yale and Harvard," announced Ringwood yesterday,
"nor any change in the officers of the steamers. The only change we propose to make is the inclusion hereafter of berths and meals in the fares on both steamers from Los Angeles to San Francisco."

MEX. POPULATION RAISES DEATH RATE AMONG S. A. BABIES

Health Officer Clark's Figures Show County Seat Healthful For Babies

The infant mortality rate in Santa Ana would be almost nil were it not for the Mexican population.

Seventy-five per cent or more of infants who die in this city are of Mexican parentage, according to the statement of City Health Officer
Clark this morning.

It is evidence that Santa Ana is a healthful city—a good place for the little ones.

Of the 185 deaths reported to the city clerk in this city for a period dating back one year from today, 30 were infants, and of the 30 75 per cent were Mexican babies.

The number of deaths was ascertained today by R. W. Binkley, who was here gathering data for the State Health Board. Binkley is the son of F. M. Binkley of this city. He has been taking a medical course at the State University, specializing in surgery. He has completed a four year course at the university and is now taking a course in the hospital.

Assigned to So. California
He was assigned to work in Southern California during the summer vacation and has visited a number of Southern California cities during the time. He is working under Dr. Cummings, head of the State Board of Health, gathering death statistics and making sanitary surveys to be incorporated into reports to the board.

Binkley left today for Los Angeles and from there will return to San Francisco. When he has completed his course he expects to establish himself in his profession at San Francisco.

No case of infantile paralysis has developed in Santa Ana, and every precaution is being taken against it developing in the state.

Health inspectors are stationed at every point where transcontinental lines enter the state, and rigid inspection is made of all passengers.

Keep Strict Watch
Health officers at the point of destination of passengers coming from sections where infantile paralysis has existed are notified by telegraph of the coming of such parties, and it is the duty of the city health officers to call upon the parties upon their arrival and make observations.

Dr. Clark has received a number of such warning telegrams. Some have been of local people returning home after visiting in those sections where the dread disease has prevailed, and some have been of parties coming here only on visits.

NO DEFENSE WILL BE MADE BY WIFE WHO KILLED 'OTHER WOMAN'

MARYSVILLE, Mo., Aug. 17.— Calmly declaring, "I know what I have done and I am ready to pay the penalty," Mrs. C. E. Gilmore today indicated that she would make no defense for the killing of Mrs. Ella Shipp at Burlington Station. Her husband, over whom Mrs. Gilmore shot the "other woman," a tenant,
plans to aid the defense of his mate.
The inquest over the body of Mrs.
Shipp was held this afternoon.

WAR TO LAST 2 YEARS MORE, BRITISH BELIEF

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—Indications that Great Britain believes the war will end within two years was deduced by bankers from the terms of the $250,000,000 loan to be floated in this country, official announcement of which was made by Henry P. Davison of J. P. Morgan & Company.

The notes run for two years. It is believed that the British Government, anticipating the end of the war by the time of maturity of this loan, plans to combine all of its obligations in America into one long-time loan.

$25,000 BUILDING IS PLANNED FOR POMONA

POMONA, Aug. 17.—An announcement which is significant of the steady, healthy growth of Pomona is that within a few days excavation work will be begun at the northeast corner of Third and Louisa streets for a thoroughly modern two-story building to be occupied by the Pomona Valley Telephone & Telegraph Company.
It will cost $25,000 and its ground dimensions will be 130x130 feet.

JAIL 2 PRETTY L. A. GIRLS AS RUNAWAYS

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 17.—Two pretty girls, Gertrude Lewis, 16, and Vonda Nerski, 18, early today were taken into custody as runaways while gaily dancing in a cafe east of Los Angeles.
The girls, at first defiant on being arrested, admitted having run away from comfortable homes. An investigation is being made. Several arrests of prominent men may be made, it is said.

GOING TO SPEND $2500. BETTER FIRE BREAKS AND TRAILS

Forest Service Matches Sum Promised Locally For Fire
Protective Work

This coming winter $2500 will be spent in building new fire trails and new fire breaks in the Santa Ana mountains, and in bettering trails and breaks that have already been constructed. Of that $2500, the federal forest service will contribute $1250, Orange County $750, the Serrano Water Company of Villa Park $250 and the John T. Carpenter Water Company of El Modena $250.

The work will be done under the supervision of Forest Ranger J. B.
Stephenson of El Toro under whatever supplemental arrangements may be made by those contributing to the fund.

Not until Forest Ranger Stephenson and Forest Supervisor N. H. Sloane of Escondido had taken Roy Headley of San Francisco to the top of the Santa Ana range was the consent of the forest service to an appropriation for the local watershed secured.

Six weeks ago Sloane, who is head of the Cleveland National Forest, which includes the Trabuco division,
and Stephenson went before the Associated Chambers of Commerce and later before the Board of Supervisors, and stated that they believed that the forest service would put up dollar for dollar with the county for bettering fire protection conditions in the Santa Ana mountains. At that time the two forest officials were confident that they could secure the appropriation. Sloane also expected to secure an appropriation of $2500 for San Diego county. The Associated Chambers recommended that an appropriation be made, and the supervisors offered to put up $750 on a fifty-fifty basis.

Find Difficulties
Not until Headley, who is assistant district forester and in full charge of operation, arrived in Escondido last week was it known that the chances to get an appropriation of any kind for the Cleveland forests were exceedingly slim. Headley explained that the money had been taken elsewhere. He turned down the San Diego proposition, and was in a mind to turn down the Santa Ana mountain proposal also when he arrived at El Toro with Sloane.

Headley, Sloane and Stephenson made a trip that took them to the top of Santiago Peak and to other points along the top of the range. From there the wonderful view of the country was a most convincing argument that the watershed is of great importance to Orange county. Stephenson pointed out whole sections of the mountains into which it would be impossible for him to get fire fighters in case of fire. The necessity of trails and fire breaks was shown to the San Francisco federal official in a way that he could not get around. It ended by his agreement to dig up $1250 for work on the Santa Ana mountains during the coming winter.

Plans Already Made
Plans for the work to be done during the coming winter have already been made by the forest officials. According to the agreement reached by Sloane and Stephenson with Headley, thirteen miles of new fire breaks will be built, and thirty miles of trail and fire breaks already established will be put into permanent condition.

The purpose of a fire break is to furnish an avenue through the brush from which the fire fighters can backfire to stop a big conflagration. It is not proposed to make the breaks so wide that in themselves they would stop the progress of a fire. Such a firebreak would cost a huge sum of money. Brush will be cleared away along the ridges and a trail will be grubbed out.

Fire breaks are to be built this winter along the ridge between Baker and Ladd canyons, on the ridge out of Williams canyon between Silverado and Harding canyons, and on the main divide for three miles from Santiago peak to the head of the Trabuco. The trail to the top of Santiago peak will be re-built where necessary and will be brushed out and grubbed out where brush has encroached on the trail. The brush along the top of the range northward from Santiago peak to the Corona section will be grubbed out.
That fire break has already been cut through, but the roots of the brush have not been taken out.

GREAT CALIF. CANNERY MERGER NEAR, REPORT

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17.—Negotiations for a merger of the principal cannery interests of the Pacific Coast are under way in San Francisco. The firms named in the reported merger were the J. K. Armsby Company, Alaska Packers' Association, California Fruit Canneries' Association, Hawaiian Pineapple Company, Ltd., and Balfour Guthrie & Company.

That such a merger was under consideration has been admitted by a prominent business man who was credited in the reports with an active part in the negotiations.

The officials of the companies said to be involved refused to discuss the reported merger.

ALBERT GOLDMAN the other day leaped from the observation tower at the fortieth story of the Singer Building in New York to his death.
In doing that he jumped from a greater height than any other suicide has ever done. Many have leaped from the Brooklyn Bridge, but in doing that they did not drop more than 145 feet. There are three great towers in New York—that of the Woolworth Building, the Metropolitan and the Singer, but this is the first time a suicide has had sufficient nerve to leap from one of them.

NAVY BILL CONFEREES RETAIN BIG SUM TO EQUIP PUGET SOUND

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—The Senate this afternoon passed the naval bill. The house is to pass on it tomorrow.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—The House and Senate conferees on the Naval bill today agreed to retain the $6,000,000 appropriation to improve and equip Puget Sound and six Atlantic navy yards for the construction of battleships.

The Naval bill will be ready for both houses tomorrow.
A federal amendment providing for an investigation by a commission of the advisability of establishing a second Naval academy was stricken out.
One of President Wilson's recommendations, for a 35-foot channel through Hell Gate, New York, also was stricken out.

If the President's Naval bill regarding the construction of warships can be carried out, 150 ships of war of all classes are to be completed in three years. The first year calls for four dreadnaughts, four battle cruisers by the end of the coming year. Sixteen are capital ships. Three and a half million is provided for aviation.

PRETTY ANGELENO, 21, CINDERELLA AT BALL, SEEKS POISON DEATH

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 17.—Mystery veils the cause for the attempted suicide of pretty Margaret Royder, 21, early today. The girl, in the character of Cinderella, attended a brilliant society ball at Hotel Roycroft, slipped away near the close of the affair and went to her room. The girl's sister, on going to Margaret's room, arrived in time to prevent her from drinking poison. The girl was rushed to the hospital, where she quickly recovered.
She steadfastly refuses to tell why she tried to take her life.

WOMEN ROOKIES WORK FOR AMERICAN IDEALS

LAKE GENEVA, Wis., Aug. 17.—
The 150 women rookies who are here in khaki and military training so they can "think, talk and work" for American ideals have settled down to their routine duties and are making rapid headway toward military efficiency today.

These women represent the 499,850 other American women members of the Women's branch of the Navy League. They are under the direction of Mrs. Vylla Poe Wilson, relative of Edgar Allen Poe and militant Quakeress from Washington, D. C. She originated the women's branch of the league.

"The league so far as we are concerned has been organized little more than a year," said Mrs. Wilson today,
"yet we have half a million members."

EMPLOYER BEQUEATHED $10,000 BY SERVANT

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—The will of Lina Matherny, a domestic, filed for probate leaves $10,000—the savings of the thirty years she spent in her service—to her employer, Dr. Emanuel Baruch.

Fearing that relatives might seek to break the will, the woman, in a memorandum annexed to the instrument, begs the authorities not to permit any other disposition of her estate.

HUGHES SPENDS RESTFUL DAY ON BIGGEST JUMP

ROSEBURG, Ore., Aug. 17.—Charles E. Hughes today took the biggest "jump" of his transcontinental trip.
He was en route from Portland to San Francisco. Three or four points were scheduled to hear the candidate for three or four minutes, but no formal speeches were arranged, not even at Shasta Springs. It was a day of solid comfort for the candidate.

TOUR OF JOHNSON IN STATE SETS RECORD

BERKELEY, Aug. 17.—Governor Johnson's recent mass meeting here establishes a record for the size of political rallies held in the college town. The Berkeley High School auditorium, which holds 1500, was so packed that 600 people could not gain an entrance. Even the overflow meeting at the Hotel Shattuck, hastily called, proved a second overflow at fair, and several hundred citizens never did get a chance to hear the governor. Willis H. Booth, a few weeks ago, talked to a scant forty here.

Berkeley is no exception. Santa Barbara, Santa Cruz and San Bernardino reported that the Johnson meetings on this campaign tour broke all records for political gatherings in those places.

PETROGRAD, Aug. 17.—General
Nicholas V. Ruzsky has been appointed commander-in-chief of the Northern armies of Russia.

General Ruzsky was credited with the capture of Lemberg and was held as a hero. General Ruzsky is 62 years old. He was wounded in the Turkish war of 1877-78 and was quartermaster general during the Russo-Japanese war.

PEACE WITH ITALY IS VIENNA CABINET TALK

LONDON, Aug. 17.—Two important cabinet meetings have been held at Vienna at which the possibility of a separate peace with Italy was discussed, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from the Austrian capital. The plan under discussion is said to have been considered with a view to enabling Austria-Hungary to make an undivided effort against Russia.

R. GOODCELL OF GATE CITY HEADS EAGLES

SAVANNAH, Ga., Aug. 17.—Selection of Buffalo for the 1917 Grand Asie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, became practically assured when that city was the only one offered at the annual meeting here. Among the officers nominated was Grand Worthy President, Rex B. Goodcell, of San Bernardino, Cal.

The only contest will be for the Grand Worthy Chaplain's place.

RY. CHIEFS RUSH TO CAPITOL AS WILSON ENDS PLEA TO 640 TRAINMEN

Executive's Proposal Is For 8-hour Day, It Is Privately Announced

ALL HEADS OF ROADS CALLED BY PRESIDENT

Employees Representatives At White House Given Talk
Of One Hour

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—President Wilson concluded his appeal to the 640 representatives of the railroad brother-hoods at 4 o'clock this afternoon, having talked one hour. It was privately announced that the President's proposal was primarily for an eight-hour day, with a postponement of lesser matters
till later.

Wilson Calls Magnates Reaching an apparent deadlock in his attempted settlement of the threatened railway strike, President Wilson today sent the following telegram to the railroad presidents, asking them to come to Washington as soon as possible:

"The discussion of matters involved in the brakemen's railroad strike has reached a point which makes it highly desirable that I confer personally with you at the earliest possible moment and with the presidents of any other of the railways affected. I hope you can make it convenient to come to Washington for a conference."

Ready for Conference Interest today rested chiefly in the solemn session scheduled for this afternoon in the beautiful room of the White House that is celebrated only for special affairs from the time that Dolly Madison danced. The gorgeous furniture had been moved out and camp chairs crowded in close arrangement on the polished floor.

The employees' representatives, ready for the session, were in a serious mood and for the most part silent as the time approached for the meeting. When they were prepared to concede, none would say.

One of the foremost leaders of the Workers' Leader Talks

"It appears very much as though the managers intend to stand pat. We are perfectly willing to do that as long as the President is to judge between the parties. One little statement from him placing responsibility for failure to get together will be something neither side can afford to face. As for us, we came here with the idea of accepting the President's idea of what he regards as fair."

Before sending his telegram President Wilson talked on the long distance phone with President Willard of the Baltimore & Ohio Railway. He was assured that that railroad head could come to Washington immediately.

Chambers Sees Wilson
After conferring with the employees,
Judge Chambers of the Federal Mediation Board, went to the White House.
He took additional statistics to the President. The statistics showed the application of the eight-hour day to railroad revenues. Judge Chambers said that the President, formulating a proposition to make to both sides, desired details of the possible effect of the eight-hour day on both sides.

CHICAGO, Aug. 17.—Five railroad presidents have left for Washington.

CHICAGO RAIL MANAGERS OUT OF TOWN

CHICAGO, Aug. 17.—All western railroad heads, invited to attend the conference with the president at Washington, today were out of town with the exception of E. P. Ripley, president of the Santa Fe.

ARMY HAS NO FEAR OF RAIL STRIKE

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 17.—The United States army on the border has no fear of the consequences from a general railroad strike. Officers of the Southern department today informed the United Press Association that enough supplies were on hand to last sixty days, and could be made to last longer in an emergency.

RAIL CHIEFS TO SPEED TO WASHINGTON

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—A dozen presidents of railway systems will leave here at 4 p. m.

JOHNSON'S FOES WOULD SHATTER I. G. O. P. RANKS FOR REVENGE

Wire From Willcox Pleading For Unity Hidden By Crocker, Claim

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17.—That the Otis-Crocker-Keesling group of reactionaries who are trying to regain control of the Republican party in this state hate Governor Johnson and every other Progressive in the state deeply enough to throw down their national leaders, even daring to risk the disruption of the California reception to Governor Hughes has been made apparent by the publication of a telegram, sent by National Republican Chairman William R. Willcox to Republican National Committeeman William H. Crocker, of California—a telegram, which, when Crocker received it, was carefully hidden by Crocker.

The message from Willcox backs up the contention of Republican National Campaign Committeeman Chester H. Rowell that the Republican foe of Progressivism in this state would not hesitate to disobey orders and tear the party into pieces in order to wreak puny revenge on the men who have consistently, for the last six years, fought for the people's control of the government of California. Rowell has received the full text of the telegram to Crocker, sent to him by Willcox in order to clear up the situation, insofar as the attitude of the national leaders is concerned. It reads in part as follows:

"You (Crocker) would be most unfortunate, and I desire to record my earnest protest against any reprisals being placed upon those who are now supporting Hughes and Fairbanks and who may not have supported our ticket."

et in past years. I had thought a happy solution was reached when it was pointed out that you would reside at San Francisco and Mr. Rowell at Los Angeles. This, it seemed to me, would in no sense drag into view the local fight on senatorship but would show a harmonious desire on the part of all supporting Hughes to forget their differences for two days. Anything short of this kind of co-operation, shown by either side, would work harm to the party through the nation, and I should suppose it would in your state. I state as emphatically as I can that, if there is any ground for Rowell's complaints, they should be speedily removed."

In the face of this earnest appeal, Crocker has gone ahead in the same course he has followed from the beginning of the arrangements for the Hughes visit and has signally ignored the Progressive Republicans in the perfection of the plans for the entertainment of the Republican presidential candidate.

KANSANS OF COUNTY GOING TO HOLD A PICNIC AUG. 22

The Kansas Society of Orange County will hold a basket picnic at Orange County Park on August 22. There will be a program of music and speaking from 11 to 12. Judge R. R. GUARDS, TO GET HOME WOUND SELVES, DESERT SAYS HOSPITAL MAN

DALLAS, Aug. 17.—Guardsmen, being driven to despair by enforced idleness on the border are choosing two of the most precarious methods of getting home, namely, desertion and self-inflicted wounds.

This is the statement made today by Roy Gambrell of the Hospital Corps of the Texas Guard. He was in Dallas to take a deserter back to camp. "There were between sixteen and eighteen Texans in the hospital at Marfa with bullet wounds in their legs, feet and hands as a result of their trying to get a release from the border," said Gambrell.

CROOKEDNESS IN POLITICS GETS HARD FLAYING FROM HUGHES

Nominee Tells Ad Men He Too
Is Advertiser, Belonging To G. O. P. Club

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 17.—Charles E. Hughes was in a happy vein at the ad men's banquet here yesterday. After being introduced to the ad men of the Coast, whose slogan is "Truth in advertising," as the "next president of the United States," he brought them to their feet by declaring that he, too, was an ad man, and belonged to the "Republican advertising club."

He said that as such a member of the Republican club he believed, as did the real advertising men of the country, in honest advertising, and that was why he was here—to tell the truth.

He made the banquet an occasion for a shoulder-hitting address on honesty and efficiency in business, declaring that he stood for all honorable enterprise in this country, and at the same time, if elected president, would do all in his power to root out the crooked men in politics and business, whoever they might be. He said he considered them traitors to the United States.

"Now Long on Talk"
"For the present," he said, "I am spokesman of the Republican ad club. It was not ever thus. A short time ago I was long on silence and short on talk. Now I am short on silence and long on talk."

"The reason is that I was mandamused in Oregon. I was kept on observing the obvious proprieties of the position that I held. I was in a place of great distinction and power, in which I was content to remain. When suggestions came from Oregon that I should run in your primary I was very curt in refusing. I had no desire to run. I wanted to remain where I was and be left alone."

"But they reckon ill who leave Oregon out. I listened and did as you pleased, and for the first time in the history of the country a state court mandamusd a federal judge. "I am glad to say that the spokesman of a party that recognizes protection to American industry as an appropriate line of action. I do not trust those who do not believe in the principle, but apply it under the stress of party expediency. I trust those who do believe in the principle and to see that it is given the application which American industry and American enterprise demand."

Stand Without Aid
"I do not believe that this nation can afford to rest its assurance of prosperity upon the continuance of the European war. It must be able to stand without the aid of the European war under policies that serve in times of peace. I stand for a business-like administration of government. This is not a counsel of perfection. This is not an attainable ideal. It is an ideal which has been too little thought of in this country."

"I believe in truth in advertising, and I do not propose as a member of the Republican ad club and its spokesman to say anything that is not demonstrably sound."

"I know something from the experience in the state of New York about the opposition which policies of efficiency must meet. But if we are to measure up to the demands which are before us and take a place worthily among the nations of the earth, we must have ability to resist the importunity to convert public offices into private snags and make the great ad men of our state serve simply partisan expedients. I am against that. I am for sound business-like ad men."

Must Save U. S. Daily
"We must save this country every day. It won't be saved by letting it drift."

At the close of a wild demonstration Mr. Hughes was made an honorary life member of the Portland Ad Club.

In his address in the Ice Palace last night Mr. Hughes made a plea against the surrender of the Philippines. The nation has assumed an international obligation in the islands, he declared, which cannot be evaded. He urged that the islands should be retained and administered with the aim of maintaining these highest standards of expert administration. Portland and its environs, which contain one-third of the vote of the entire state, gave Mr. Hughes a royal welcome yesterday. From early morning until midnight he was kept on the

DANGERS OF A COLD

Santa Ana People Will Do Well to Heed Them

Many bad cases of kidney trouble result from a cold or chill. Congested kidneys fall behind in filtering the poison-laden blood and backache, headache, dizziness and disordered kidney action follow. Don't neglect a cold. Use Doan's Kidney Pills at the first sign of kidney trouble. Follow this Santa Ana resident's example:

Mrs. D. S. Reeves, 1046 W. Second St., Santa Ana, says: "I caught cold which settled on my kidneys last spring and it brought on an attack of backache. I had a constant lame back and the pains were more severe when I stooped or lifted. I was tired out and did not have any ambition. I suffered from severe pains in the back of my head and dizzy spells and everything seemed in a blur. Three boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from the White Cross Drug Co. removed the trouble."

On an eighty-mile automobile tour up and down the Columbia river in the afternoon Mr. Hughes talked briefly to knots of villagers.

He was scheduled to leave Portland at 1.30 a. m. for San Francisco, where the party is due for a thirty-six-hour stay at noon Friday. Stops for brief addresses were to be made today at Roseburg, Grants Pass, Medford and Ashland.

GUARDS DANCE WITH EACH OTHER ON LINE

NOGALES, Ariz., Aug. 17.—Two stepping and fox trotting has become a passion among the California National Guard. So much in fact, that the soldiers meet in the skating rink here at night and dance to their hearts' content with each other. Partners are so scarce that few have had the pleasure of dancing with one of the opposite sex since their arrival.

IMPRESSIVE SERVICES MARKS FUNERAL OF J. H. WALKER

The funeral of the late J. Henry Walker was held at the chapel of Smith & Tuthill at 9:30 a. m. Tuesday. The very impressive services were conducted by Rev. Otto S. Russell, pastor of the First Baptist Church, of which Mr. Walker had been a member for twelve years.

Miss Blanche Minter and Mrs. Holmes Bishop sang very sweetly, "O, Love That Will Not Let Me Go," and "Asleep in Jesus." The casket was surrounded by a profusion of beautiful flowers, tributes of loving friends.

Burial was in Fairhaven cemetery. Mr. Walker was the son of Aaron and Isabelle Hamblin Walker, and was born in Summer Hill, N. Y., February 11, 1856, on the farm that was settled and owned by the Walker family for three generations.

He was educated in the schools of the town and the Homer Academy. He was converted and became a member of the Baptist church while young, and in later years filled the offices of deacon, trustee and Sunday school superintendent. He was ever among the foremost in promoting anything that pertained to the welfare of the church and town, holding the office of justice of the peace for several years.

Failing in health in 1903 he went to Boulder, Colo., and the following spring came to Santa Ana, where he was joined later by his family and sister, Miss Mary Walker.

He was married in 1886 to Miss Cora H. Sullivan, who survives him. He also leaves two daughters, Anna (Mrs. Clyde Flower) and Miss Lillian Walker; three sisters, Miss Mary Walker of Santa Ana, Mrs. O. M. Dickenson of Groton City, N. Y., and Mrs. H. N. Greene of Washingtonville, N. Y., and one grandson, James Howard Cutler. One daughter, Isabelle (Mrs. Jay Cutler) preceded him to the Great Beyond a little more than a year ago.

He possessed a beautiful Christian character, was very quiet and unassuming and could only be fully appreciated by those who knew him best.

To his family he was ever a tender, loving brother, husband and father, and his passing will long be mourned in the home. His sudden death was a great shock to a large circle of friends, both here and at his old home in the East.

"Not thine nor mine to question or reply. He commands us, asking, 'How?' or 'Why?'"

He knows the cause, His ways are wise and just.
Who serves the King must serve with perfect trust."

HALT ON BILLION DOLLAR WASTE IN MARKETING IS PLANNED

Conference of Farmers Will Discuss Subject Dec. 4 and 5 In Chicago

CHICAGO, Aug. 17.—How to check the billion dollar waste in the marketing of farm products will be the dominant theme of the fourth national conference on marketing and farm credits, called today to meet in Chicago December 4 and 5.

Farmers of all states are expected to unite in a discussion of ways and means to remedy a condition termed "wasteful and iniquitous in the extreme" by the committee in its meeting notice.

Surveys will be made prior to the winter gathering that will show the movement of crops such as livestock, grain, cotton and hay. The whole milk problem and its relation to city distribution will be worked out.

Practical plans will be drawn for eliminating waste, improving farm products and increasing the consumption of certain farm crops.

Half of the conference work will be devoted to rural credits and the Federal Farm Loan Act will come in for its share of criticism.

"The delegates will analyze the scope and limitations of the act," said Secretary Charles W. Holman of Madison, Wis., today. "And when they are through the American farmer will know what to expect under its terms. Contrary to the general belief,

MIDDLE WEST'S SENTIMENT ON WAR LEARNED BY SHEPHERD

Many Foreign Born in Ranks Of Guards on Line, Secret Of Neutrality

BY WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
MERCEDES, Texas, August 15.—(by mail)—The Middle West. There's a name that sticks in the craw of the British statesmen.

All the rest of America the Britishers can analyze when they attempt to measure the pro or anti ally leanings of Americans. The Middle West stumps them. It isn't anti ally, but it isn't anti-German, they say.

What is it then? I have had this question asked me by such leading Englishmen as Sir William Tirrell and St. Leo Strachey, editor of the Spectator. An American in Europe for two years during the war couldn't answer the question. Here in Mercedes, in the heart of the military district, where the middle west regiments of militia abound, you shortly discover why the middle west hasn't taken sides in the European war.

"So you were in the war in Europe?" a fleshy officer asks you. You'll find his type throughout the German army; also his broken English. "What side were you on?"

"Both sides," you say; and he smiles. His name is F. E. Resche and as brigade commander of the three Minnesota regiments he has some 2,500 American soldiers under him.

"Look at his face and see if he doesn't look like an Englishman," says Col. H. V. Eva of the second Minnesota regiment, into whose tent Resche has just come. "I was born in England and I know an English face when I see one," continued the Colonel. Resche laughs heartily.

"Come on, come on," he says in his broken English to the Colonel, who is his inferior. "Didn't you promise me you'd ride to town with me?" So the man who was born in England and the man who was born in Germany, both soldiers in Uncle Sam's army, ride away together in an automobile, laughing. A British statesman puzzling over the middle west, would have broken his thinking machine at the very sight.

When private C. H. Stringler of Lemington, Nebraska, was drowned a few days ago, Colonel George A. Eberly of the Fourth Nebraska found a diver from the British army in his regiment who volunteered to seek the body.

Kuan Zoo Lee of Korea and Kearney, Nebraska is a member of Company L, Fourth Nebraska. Omaha and Hastings companies have several Greeks on their rosters. Such men are likely to add to the neutrality of the middle west.

In the Fourth Nebraska also is Winfield Haldt, who was on the Carib, sunk by a mine in the North sea, when he and the crew, with the exception of three killed by the explosion, were picked up by the Germans and later released. He's a neutral type.

The First North Dakotas include large numbers of Scandinavians and Col. H. Frayne is said to be able to give orders in the Scandinavian tongue when necessary.

Two hundred and eighty Quaker cavalymen from Iowa add a further mixture to the mixed hue of the middle west.

An English statesman in Texas would shortly find an answer to his question as to why the middle west is neutral.

LOOKOUT SMASHES RECORD IN CLIMB TO TOP OF PEAK

Russell Adkinson, son of County Game Warden W. E. Adkinson, has set a new record for speed in climbing Santiago Peak. Adkinson made the journey from the foot of the hill at Joplin's place to the forest lookout station at the top in 1 hour and 56 minutes.

Adkinson, who was president of the senior class that graduated from the Santa Ana High School last June, is employed this summer as lookout on the top of the peak. If he sees smoke he telephones to the forest ranger.

He made a trip home Sunday, and Monday morning he started back to the top of the mountain. It took him 21 minutes to get from his home to the foot of the Joplin hill. It is six miles from there to the lookout station. The best previous record from Adkinson's house to the top of the peak was made a year ago by Ray Adkinson, well known Pomona College athlete, brother of Russell. Ray made it in 2 hours and 30 minutes from home. His "kid" brother cut 13 minutes off that record.

YOUNG LEMON TREES NEED CAREFUL ATTENTION

The Monthly Bulletin of the California Commission of Horticulture has the following on "Some Rules to Follow in Training and Pruning Young Lemon Trees."

First—Use good sharp shears so as to make a smooth cut.

Second—Never cut off a limb over 3/4-inch thick with the shears. Use a sharp saw, smooth with a knife, and wax. Every limb which is cut 7/8-inch and over should be waxed, especially in the training and pruning of a tree up to five or six years of age.

Third—In cutting out limbs entirely, cut close and smooth, then wax. Do not leave stubs in the tree.

Fourth—Never cut angular wood. Where a cut is made the wood should be round, no smaller than a lead pencil, and a little larger would be better.

Fifth—Never crop or shear off ends of fruit limbs. Never shear the tree under any circumstances.

Sixth—Keep the trees free of water sprouts, especially the trunks of the young trees.

Seventh—When in doubt leave it. That is, when in doubt whether a limb ought to be cut out or cut off, leave it until next time. It can be taken out in the future, if it is necessary, but if cut off, it can never be put back. It is necessary to go over the orchard at least three times a year with the pruning shears.

Eighth—Never cut out the little fruit limbs which grow in the framework of the tree which has been developed, only where they are too thick.

A very important point which should not be overlooked is the soil. Unless the soil is kept in a good physical condition, manufacturing food for the tree, one cannot expect good results. The framework of the tree has been built. On it hangs thousands of fruit limbs, fruit spurs have set, thousands of buds are ready to produce more fruit limbs and spurs, more fruit limbs are continually coming into bearing, and unless the tree is properly and regularly fed one cannot expect prolific and continuous fruiting. A lemon tree is very much like a potato in the comparison of the fruit buds with the eyes of the potato. Every bud on the lemon tree is capable of growing fruit limbs and fruit spurs, even down on its trunk to the top of the ground. Keep the food factory in good running order, furnishing the proper diet for the tree. With the proper handling of the soil and the proper training and pruning of the lemon tree, one can develop a tree which will always and indefinitely be a prolific bearer and a profit to its owner.

26 NEW BATTLESHIPS, MANY SUBMARINES TO BE BUILT BY JAPAN

TOKIO, Aug. 17.—Japan plans to improve her navy as fast or faster than does the United States build up its sea fighting machine. At least, that is the deduction made by the Japanese people from the just announced plan to spend 254,000,000 to 310,000,000 yen building new battleships in the next seven years.

Exactly what the plan under consideration by the Finance Department of the government is, nobody knows, but according to the paper Jiji, usually a well informed publication, the outlay for "the ideal fleet" calls for about $150,000,000. Other papers' estimates are a bit lower.

A hot debate on the program is expected at the forthcoming session of the Diet because of the expenses involved. The program is backed by navy leaders and also, it is said, by the ministers of marine and finance. Newspaper reports have it that Japan proposes to build three super-dreadnaughts, two battle cruisers, eleven light cruisers, ten destroyers, and many U-boats.

YESTERDAY GREAT DAY DRILLING FOR CAMPAIGNING WORK

(Contributed)
Yesterday was a great day at the Armory. The children were out in full force to the number of 130. Eighty boys and fifty girls all lined up and marched, counter-marched, maneuvered and did military stunts like real soldiers under command of Captain McBride, who so kindly assisted the ladies in giving instructions. The boys responded to the captain's orders beautifully; and for the most part behaved and marched in true soldierly fashion, proud to be counted worth while the attention of such a leader. And the captain himself looked very much at home in his old quarters with such a body of recruits. Perhaps he felt and thought things he did not express, as memories of the other older boys came vividly before him. The human heart is a wonderful thing—no one can sound its depths.

Well, the girls were as dignified and soldierly as the boys and absorbed the title of Company A as exclusively their own; while the boys gloried in the name of Company L, and why shouldn't they? Was not the letter on the door "L," and they were in full possession. Anyway there were enough for two full companies and then some, and officers galore. At first Captain McBride seemed somewhat puzzled and remarked that there seemed to be a great number of corporals in command of squads they claimed as their own, and it was explained that the children had been told that each child who secured seven new recruits would be made a corporal of that squad, and consequently there were a dozen or so "officers" in charge. They were all assigned their proper places in command of their squads and the marching was well done. Mrs. Grace Moeser at the piano furnished music and they sang and "yelled" their rally yells with much enthusiasm.

It had been planned to take some of the older children to Anaheim to assist a newly-formed company of that city in a public demonstration last night, but the ladies were unable to secure the number of autos required and the boys and girls who had planned to go were somewhat disappointed.

After marching into the street and around and through Birch Park they were told to go to James' Confectionery Store and receive their treat. There was no delay on their part in getting there and then the "squads" marched in and each youngster received ice cream and candy.

The ladies felt greatly encouraged at the success of their efforts to get the children organized and drilled and wish to express their sincere thanks to Captain McBride for his kindly assistance, and also to Mrs. Grace Moeser, who has faithfully and ably attended the meeting and furnished the music for the songs and marches.

Two of Santa Ana's most beautiful and talented young ladies, the Misses Rose Kellogg and Eva Culver, led the girls' company in a dignified and systematic manner. Both wore silver medals they had won in W. C. T. U. medal contests and are now preparing to win gold medals.

At the close of the children's treat, Mr. James invited the leaders to partake of delicious refreshments, which was graciously accepted by the four tired but well pleased women whose strenuous afternoon with the young folks had given such gratifying results. The ladies were Mesdames H. Clay Kellogg, superintendent of Young Campaigners; Julia A. Garrison, president of Belle Rogers W. C. T. U.; Grace Moeser, musician of Bell Rogers W. C. T. U. and Mrs. Metzgar, who kindly assisted.

"HE WAS A GREAT GOVERNOR"

This was the verdict of the recognized organ of the New York State Federation of Labor.

The Legislative Labor News, recognized organ of the New York State Federation of Labor, published by John M. O'Hanlon, Troy, New York, said of Mr. Hughes in October, 1910:

"Now that Governor Hughes has retired from politics and ascended to a place on the highest judicial tribunal in the world, the fact can be acknowledged without hurting anybody's political corns that he was the greatest friend of labor laws that ever occupied the Governor's chair at Albany. During his two terms he has signed fifty-six labor laws, including among them the best labor laws ever enacted in this or any other state. He also urged the enactment of labor laws in his messages to the legislature, even going so far as to place the demand for a labor law in one of his messages to an extra session of the legislature.

"Only 162 labor laws have been enacted in this state since its erection in 1777—in 133 years. One-third of these, exceeding in quality all of the others, have been enacted and signed during Governor Hughes' term of three years and nine months."

OUT OF FRANCE

The Vindicator publishes three unusual documents that have just come out of France. One is an appeal by French women to the French parliament; one an appeal to French womanhood and one a statement by the greatest woman lawyer of France, Madame Maria Verone.

The appeal to the French deputies says in part:

"No more half-measures, no more compromises! Drink's ravages continue. We expect you to deliver the country from drink by the abolition of the distilling privilege and by the suppression of the use of alcohol as a beverage. Save the French race! Deliver France from drink!"

The appeal to French women calls upon them to fight against "prejudice" by banning alcoholic drinks from homes.

Madame Maria Verone in her address declared that France had been robbed of the lives of vast numbers of its soldiers by drink. She declared it to be the invariable experience of physicians that wounds which scarcely affected normally healthy men were deadly in the case of drinkers. In conclusion she said:

"We will no longer tolerate from our parliamentarians the want of courage and initiative they have always hitherto shown in handling this drink problem. Bereaved mothers and widows from behind their mourning veils cry to you to prohibit alcohol as a beverage. If you don't yield to them, they will turn you out at the next election."

TEACHING CLEANLINESS

Observers of the New York infant paralysis epidemic emphasize the close relation between dirty streets and tenements and the spread of the disease. Soap and water are not favorable to this contagion or any other. There is a lesson here for every community. While the ordinary town has no such slums as those of New York to constitute a disease peril, the problem of dirt and disease exists to a certain extent everywhere.

A love of cleanliness is inborn with many people. They may be poor in this world's goods, but their little cottage is scrubbed and combed until the floors wear thin. Many doctor's bills are saved in such homes.

Unfortunately there are many others who seem to live content and joyous amid dirt and disorder. Such a home is a fertile breeding place of germs, and a disease peril for whole neighborhoods. Anyone who suggests a clean-up is resented as officious. Cleanliness can be taught in school life, and it is quite as essential as arithmetic or grammar. If the children from shiftless homes can be made to feel that their dirty faces and clothes are a far worse disgrace than the most ragged and tattered but clean garments, a life-long blessing to themselves and the community has been conferred. They can be made to envy and admire cleanliness as something that is associated with comfortable living and the good things of life.

Once that impression is lodged in a child's mind, the youngster will somehow manage to make a presentable appearance in the school room. The arithmetic and geography may be forgotten, but the visible object lesson of cleanliness sticks. It makes all the difference between a family that is rising, and one that is sinking in the scale.

With Malice Toward None

By Henry James

The city of Brussels declines to pay a fine of 2,500,000 marks inflicted by the ruling governor of Belgium. This cannot be regarded as surprising. There was a demonstration at the Belgian capital in honor of the national fête day, and the fine resulted.

Of course, the contention of the governor is that Belgium, not being a nation, has no right to the pretense of a national day.

Were I a Belgian there certainly would be default as to my share of such a fine.

Failure

A bride who met her future husband November 14 and was married to him November 28 is suing him for failure to provide.

Part of the fault must be ascribed to nature. It had neglected to provide either with brains.

Just Faking

It is easy to entertain a large and fervid disesteem for the papers that are hinting that Kitchener is still alive, the story of his death but a scheme for playing a joke on the Germans.

There are plenty of indications, however, that the spirit of Kitchener has not retired from business.

Spending Economically

In one correspondent's story concerning recent engagements is embodied the statement of one side "our casualties were no larger than we could afford."

Of course, it is pleasing to have such a stock of human beings on hand that the killing of a few thousand of them does not matter.

Rumania

Ready to jump to either belligerent, or not to jump to either, Rumania mefely indicates that it knows which side of its bread is buttered.

Other peoples less wise do not have to fret about this any longer, as they lack the bread and so have no use for the butter.

Hypnosis

Prof. Muensterberg says that he is able to hypnotize anybody.

However, many of us have as yet been able to escape the baleful flashing of his eye.

Spreading Disaster

Science says that a new disease is attributed to golf.

Probably has reference to the moral decadence of caddies owing to the language of amateurs.

Patriotic By Law

Baltimore is thinking of passing an ordinance requiring the members of an orchestra to stand while playing "The Star Spangled Banner."

If there is a pianist in the bunch, of course, there will be a clause excepting him.

Lost Treasure

An expedition is said to be in quest of $2,000,000 sunk off the coast of California fifty years ago by the wreck of the Brother Jonathan.

Expeditions are always going somewhere for buried treasure and never getting it, but if they must go, the remains of the Brother Jonathan are near enough home to make the trip easy. How much simpler, for instance, than going to Cocos Island, which is the usual stunt.

Grilling

Owing to a strike, San Francisco society has been grilling its own steaks.

Recalls the time after the big fire, only then it was glad to grill a piece of bacon held on a sharp stick.

Funston and Reporters

When Funston charges a reporter with lying he can also clap him into the guard house, which is a distinct advantage.

All that the reader can do to the reporter is to get mad at him.

Benign Effects

War may change the map of nations, Cause a billion kicks at rations, Tumble folks from lofty stations, But we really will not care if 'Twill let statesmen grind no axes, People no more growl of taxes, And the tendency relaxes To talk free trade versus tariff.

BORDWELL TELLS SOME TRUTHS WHEN FORCED TO

(From the Visalia Delta)
The political situation created by the "off agin, on agin, gone agin" tactics of Judge Bordwell in the national senatorial fight has its amusing side. Reactionary leaders, who up to now were condemning him in unmeasured terms as a "butter in" and a menace to their hand-picked candidate, are today praising the "high motive" of the judge in withdrawing. His withdrawal, according to Secretary of State Jordan is too late to keep his name from going on the primary ballot, because the list of candidates have been certified to the various county clerks, advertised and must appear on the ballots when printed.

The meteoric career of candidate Bordwell has served one purpose at least—that of revealing to the people the character of the opposition to Governor Johnson. Before Bordwell was cajoled, coerced and intimidated into retirement he told a few truths about the regulars and their political methods. He characterized the rump conference which read him out of the race for the toga as an illegal, unofficial proceeding prejudicial and inimical to the rights of the people, and in violation of the direct primary law of California. Again in his statement announcing his withdrawal he says:

"Others, however, have sought to employ the party organization in an effort to suppress my candidacy. Such methods are reprehensible, hurtful to the party and subversive of the principles of the Direct Primary Law."

Finally in closing Judge Bordwell paid his respects to the steam roller when he expressed

"the hope that the leadership in the Republican party in California shall hereafter be animated and controlled by the principle that the people, and they alone, must make the party nominations."

The word "hereafter" is illuminating. It implies that as at present constituted the Republican party in California is not animated and controlled by the will of the people. What better evidence can we ask than that of a man who has just been flattened out by the steam roller? The Delta does not believe that the rank and file of the Republican party of California will submit to the dictation of Keesling, Otis and DeYoung as to who the next senator from California will be. They will have the good judgment to choose a man who has the friendship of the Republican candidate for president, and a man who is something more in the state and nation than a name and a party label. California is too great a state not to send its greatest citizen to represent it in the senate, and it is not going to allow a little coterie of politicians, through personal enmity, to deny it what it wants.

(AUTHORIZED PUBLICITY)

S. H. FINLEY MAKES STATEMENT

Not being able to devote the time necessary to personally meet the voters of Santa Ana without sacrificing the public interests entrusted to me I take this method of presenting a few matters of interest.

First—That the following amounts were spent by the Board of Supervisors, mostly for temporary work on the miscellaneous roads of the County in addition to what was expended by the Highway Commission on the paved road system:

During 1912-13	$195,467.61
During 1913-14	157,735.44
During 1914-15	221,176.54
During 1915-16	246,333.40

Total for 4 years$820,712.99

Two-thirds as much as what was spent by the Highway Commission in constructing the paved roads during the same time.

Second—That the general funds of the County were drawn on for the following amounts:

1914-15	$81,522.43
1915-16	93,419.59

Third—That of the above amounts, Santa Ana taxpayers paid approximately:

1914-15	$11,000.00
1915-16	12,500.00

Fourth—That all of the above amounts paid by Santa Ana was expended within the four Supervisorial Districts outside of Santa Ana and not one cent in this district.

Fifth—That nearly all of the above $820,000.00 was expended under the direction of the 25 different road foremen without any special training or qualifications for their work.

Sixth—That in addition to the $23,000.00 paid by Santa Ana taxpayers for work on the miscellaneous roads in the outside four districts, this city is also assessed to pay its proportionate part of the cost and maintenance of the paved road system built under the $1,270,000.00 bond issue.

Seventh—That during the year 1915-16 auto owners of the county paid in license fees $55,000.00, $26,968.00 of this amount was returned to this county for use on public roads.

All of this amount was divided among the four districts outside of Santa Ana to be expended under the direction, largely by the numerous road foremen on roads other than paved roads which Santa Ana is taxed to maintain.

Santa Ana auto owners probably paid more than $6,000.00 of the above amount so distributed.

Eighth—That two of the present Supervisors favor using the old organizations (that heretofore have cared for the dirt roads of the county), to maintain the admirable paved road system which cost a million and a half dollars to build and for which we will be 30 years in paying.

Ninth—That during the last two years an average of approximately $300 per mile per year has been expended on road maintenance and improvement by the old system in addition to what was spent by the Highway Commission on roads built under the bond issue.

Tenth—That the Highway Commission expended less than $100.00 per mile during the last year in repairs including the damage done by the floods of last winter.

Eleventh—That notwithstanding approximately 200 miles of paved roads have been built in the county during the last four years, taking three-fourths of the traffic of the county, $246,000.00 was expended on the other roads during 1915-16, when only $158,000.00 was expended in 1913-14 on practically all the roads before improved roads were built.

I BELIEVE

First—That at least $30,000.00 per year of the amount spent under the present expensive system could be saved if an efficient, capable and courageous road builder were put in charge of the work, unhampered by any obligations to friends and voters other than the obligation to get good results, and free from any pressure to appoint inefficient subordinates because of their supposed influence in the different communities.

Second—That the cities of the county are being unnecessarily taxed to meet the deficiency caused by the present wasteful system.

Third—That it would have been unnecessary to tax Santa Ana $23,000.00 during the last two years to be expended by the old system, had the work been performed by an efficient organization, intelligently directed.

Fourth—That in view of the present line-up of the Supervisors, the member from Santa Ana being in a district in which no road money is expended and no road patronage distributed, is in a position to decide whether the paved roads shall be cared for by capable men or turned over to the organization that has heretofore cared for our dirt roads.

Fifth—That any private organization expending a quarter of a million dollars per year in its operations would secure men trained in their special line to direct the work.

Sixth—That public work should be conducted in just as careful and intelligent a manner as private work.

Seventh—That there has been no dishonesty connected with the expenditure of the $820,000.00 on the general road system during the last four years, but in view of the immense amount involved it is worthy of the very best supervision.

IF ELECTED AS SUPERVISOR I WILL

First—Use my best efforts to aid in bringing about a change that will result in better work more economically performed.

Second—Endeavor to apply to public work private efficiency methods.

Third—Try to make Santa Ana's annual contribution of $15,000.00 or more to aid the outside districts, largely unnecessary, without getting less effective results for those districts.

Fourth—Try to reduce the present burdensome taxation on the whole county in any way that I can.

S. H. FINLEY,
Candidate for Supervisor.

Election August 29, 1916.

THE CASE FOR RUM

A paper in itself favoring prohibition, or believed to lean that way, is furnishing space for a series of arguments touching the whole matter. Side by side appear daily the sentiments approved of the saloon, and those that have the endorsement of the homes where are boys and girls, and parents who hope that youth may be permitted to develop to maturity in a land free from the lure of drink.

For it still is possible to argue for the saloon. There is no doubt that the saloon is profitable to the saloon-keeper. Close it, and he might have to go to work. It is probable also to the owner of the realty, who is permitted to charge a fancy rental to a tenant, who but for this fancy rental, would be undesirable. The same premises, occupied by the butcher or the baker might not bring so much. They would bring a fair return on the investment, but the owners of saloon property have become accustomed to more than fair returns. Comparatively few persons, however, get a view of the situation from the precise angle of the ones actually engaged in the whisky business. Many who tolerate the whisky business to the extent of entering a cafe, and taking a social glass there, gladly would vote to close all bars. They do not feel the need of protection for themselves. Some of them have been habitual drinkers all their lives, and never intoxicated once. They rather like meeting their friends in the free atmosphere of the saloon. But they know what whisky is doing, that to some, the touch of it is ruin; they know that it is the cause of crime, disease and poverty. They see the pitiful wrecks made by whisky stagger about the streets. The trembling hand of the whisky-soaked beggar is held out to them with a whining request for money. They can recall friends of their own, once seemingly immune to the force of the destroyer, yet who have fallen, and are in drunkards' graves, or waiting the end of misery in sodden weakness.

Now all these things are arguments that do not have to be written down to make their appeal to the understanding. When a person of just ordinary human sentiment thinks of the broken hearts and desolated homes to be attributed directly to the saloon, when he calls to mind the convicts peering hopelessly towards liberty, and cursing the drink that led them to a cell, he does not care to deal with the saloon business as with a legitimate factor in the economic life of the community. He regards it as an unclean and sinister thing. He is inclined even to resent the defense of it as being a folly, so gross and offensive and unforgivable is this saloon in the nostrils of decency.

A distiller pays money for grain. So does the miller. Money paid across a bar gets into the circulation. So does money paid for meat and milk and the baby's shoes. In other words, the saloon is an unmitigated evil. The little incidental good accomplished by it in a business way would be better accomplished in the absence of the saloon. Jugglers of statistics may seem to prove anything, but they can't fool the popular judgment that has condemned the saloon on the adequate ground that as an institution it promotes crime, destitution and bitter unhappiness.—San Bernardino Sun.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

Mrs. Fred Stillings Plans and Carries Out Celebration For Anniversaries

Mrs. Fred Stillings planned and yesterday carried out a very pleasant surprise in honor of the birthday of her husband, also celebrating the ninth anniversary of Master Bobby Lentz.

Mrs. Stillings served a very delightful six o'clock dinner, in four delicious courses, relatives and a few friends to the number of fourteen in all being seated around the festal board. One long table was provided and was graced with a brown basket filled with greenery and vivid geraniums. Above forming a canopy were streamers of ferns extending to the four corners of the table. Place cards were formed of a single carnation and spray of fern.

At each end of the table stood a beautiful birthday cake, the one for Master Bobby being iced in pink with pink candles and that for Mr. Stillings all in white.

The living room was also decked in red and green and after dinner music and conversation were enjoyed.

G's Hold Reunion

Some of the "G's" forming the club called the three G's met yesterday at the home of Mrs. Nina Glenn on North Broadway for a day of pleasant reunion and talking over "ye olden time."

The club formerly numbered twenty-one members and the only tinge of sadness was felt when it was found that there are now but about twelve.

A picnic dinner was served on the lawn under the trees and following the appetizing meal, Mrs. Glenn brought out her relics of old club times, consisting of pictures, clippings and other souvenirs. Much merriment was occasioned and some sorrow was caused, as all were looked over.

Those present yesterday besides the hostess were Meses. Ruby Hickox, Sallie Powell, of Montana, Jessie Cole, Jessie Brakeman and Pearl Kelly of Needles, and Misses Charlotte Brown and Celia Cotter of Los Angeles.

Returned to Santa Ana

Dr. and Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh, who have been in Santa Ana more or less for the last year, have returned from Omaha, where they went to dispose of their home and close up other business matters and have come to Santa Ana to make their home. They are located temporarily at 1421 Bush street, while they are building their own home.

Took Library Course

Misses Sallie Catland, Jane Humphreys and Stella Hupp have graduated from the Riverside Library school, completing their summer school course under the instruction of Mr. Daniels, the librarian at Riverside. Miss Catland is high school librarian and Misses Humphreys and Hupp are in the public library.

FRATERNAL AID UNION

High Officers Visit Last Night to View Initiatory Work and Drill of Team

One of the most successful meetings in the history of the Fraternal Aid Union was held last night with a very large attendance. Two of the superior officers of the order were present to witness the fine initiatory work and the drills of the team.

The convention for the southern district will be held at Watts September 23 and the team is working hard to be in readiness to participate. D. M. Stearns of this city is vice-president of the district and hopes to secure a large crowd to attend the convention from this city.

A very excellent program was given after the business session, among those taking part being Mrs. Christenson and her daughter, Little Miss Beth Jordan, and Col. W. F. Heathman.

Mrs. R. H. Brown conducted a delightful musical game, Mrs. Peacock playing the various numbers on the piano.

Refreshments were served in the dining room, the tables being beautifully decorated with pink carnations and ferns, a boutonniere being found at each plate. The table was centered with a huge birthday cake, the upper tier being in honor of the birthday of R. H. Brown, the lodge treasurer and the lower one honoring the twenty-eighth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. McCord. The big cake was aglow with candles and iced in pink and after the tapers had been extinguished with many good wishes for the complimented people, the cake was cut and passed around. Lady fingers, macaroons and pineapple sherbet were also served.

Married in Orange

An interesting wedding was solemnized early today at the parsonage of the Methodist Church at Orange, when Miss Gertrude Roemer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Roemer of East Santa Clara avenue, became the bride of Adolph Kirchhoff of Orange, Rev. J. E. Hall performing the ceremony at 9 o'clock.

The only witnesses to the marriage were Mrs. Hall and children, Mrs. George Ragsdale, Mary Elizabeth Ragsdale, Miss Edith Roemer and Miss Hilda Kirchhoff.

The bride was charming in a tailleur of dark blue serge with large white felt hat and was unattended.

Mr. and Mrs. Kirchhoff took the train in this city for San Diego and upon their return from their honeymoon in the exposition city will take possession of their pretty new bungalow on North Olive street, Orange. Mr. Kirchhoff is in the employ of the Plaza market.

For Seventh Birthday

Miss Josephine Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Taylor of 320 South Broadway, celebrated her seventh birthday on Tuesday afternoon with a company of her friends.

Miss Josephine received many pretty gifts and the time was happily spent with various jolly games. Mrs. Taylor being assisted in entertaining the children by Miss Frankie May Taylor and Miss Ruth Cope.

A birthday feast, including a beautiful birthday cake, done in pink and twinkling with candles, was served the young folk, the room being artistically decked with pink Maman Cochet roses and spicy carnations. Miss Josephine blew out all the tapers with one breath, while friends made good wishes for her. The nut cups were tied with pink loops and were filled with peanuts.

Miss Josephine's guests were Rosalie and Dolores Doyle, Mary Jane Owens, Evelyn Kellogg, Estelle Schlesinger, Gladys Cope, Olive Dame and Helen Lewis of Monrovia.

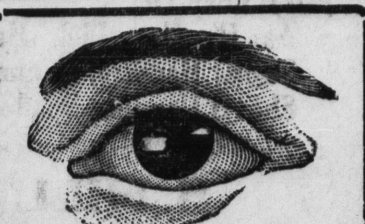

Lecture on India Tonight

Tonight at 7:30 in the Presbyterian church of Santa Ana a free lantern lecture on "India and the War" will be delivered by Rev. Stanley A. Hunt of Pittsburgh. After graduating from Princeton University in 1910 under President Woodrow Wilson's last class, Mr. Hunt went out to India under the Presbyterian Board as a short-term teacher in Ewing Christian College at Allahabad, the city made famous by F. Marion Crawford and Rudyard Kipling. During his two years he took many photographs, the best of which will be thrown upon the screen tonight. A trip into the world's highest mountains will be described and colored slides, to the number of eighty, will be shown of the tourist scenes in that land of mystery and romance.

Mr. Hunter will also speak of the work which the thirty-seven Y. M. C. A. secretaries of India are doing with the 300,000 troops who went from that land to fight with the allies in the great war.

THOMAS-PERKINS

Mid Beautiful Flowers Popular Santa Ana Girl Becomes the Wife of Angeleno

One of the most interesting of the mid-summer weddings was that of Miss Winifred Perkins of this city and Mr. William Thomas of Los Angeles, which took place last night at the home of Miss Ida Mitchell. Miss Mitchell's bungalow home was most effectively decorated with brown bows and baskets filled with exquisite pink dahlias and in the living room hung a huge wedding bell of white carnations and maidenhair fern, under which the young couple stood while the beautiful marriage lines were read by Rev. J. A. Stevenson of the First Presbyterian church. The only attendant was little Miss Evelyn Kingston, Los Angeles, who in the daintiest of white gowns, trimmed with pink satin roses made a most bewitching flower girl and strewed the bridal path with Cecil Bruner roses. The bride wore a beautiful gown of white satin, meteor, her filmy tulle veil caught with orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and maidenhair fern. She was given into her husband's keeping by her twin brother, Wyllis Perkins of Los Angeles.

"Still as Night" was beautifully sung by Miss Anna Clark and Robert Paine sang "Because." Mrs. Hare accompanied the singers and also played the beautiful bridal march from Lohengrin.

After the wedding ceremony a dainty supper was served by a number of the bride's warmest friends, including Mrs. Justice Cramer, Mrs. Joe Babbitt, Mrs. Will Houghtaling, Misses Alice Clausen, Lois Park, Dixie Perkins and Greba Scott.

The bridal pair slipped away so quietly that none of the guests knew the exact moment of their departure. After a brief honeymoon they will take up their residence in Los Angeles. Mrs. Thomas has lived here since her early girlhood, where she owns a large circle of warm friends whose heartfelt wishes for her happiness follow her to her new home. Many beautiful and costly gifts were showered upon the young couple by friends and relatives here and in Los Angeles.

The guest list included Messrs. and Mesdames J. F. Cramer, W. O. Hart, W. Chandler, Carl Shipke, Will Houghtaling, Mrs. Kieffhaber, Misses Lois Park, Marguerite Kieffhaber and Mr. Arthur Shipke, of Orange; Messrs. and Mesdames Fred Kingston, Will Powell, Misses Evelyn Kingston, Emily and Grace Birchers, Jessie Bernard, Dixie Perkins, Greba Scott, the groom's mother, Mrs. William Thomas, and his two aunts, of Los Angeles. E. Elliott, O. H. Hare, Ed. Walters, Joe Babbitt, R. S. Scott, C. H. Perkins, Arthur Lyon, C. A. Kingston, Messrs. Robert Paine, Jack Fowler, Walter Scott, A. J. Perkins, Les Campbell, Arthur Lyon, J. Misses Margaret Lyon, Elizabeth Perkins, Anna Clark, Mary Gregg, Alice and Rosa Clausen, Rosalind Dawes, Ida Mitchell, Martha Schildmeyer, and Mesdames D. M. Tomblin and S. C. Dawes of Santa Ana.

MITE BOX OPENING

Missionary Society of First M. E. Church Had Interesting Meeting

The regular meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the First M. E. Church was held in the church parlors Wednesday afternoon. Owing to the Conference, which will begin on the third Wednesday in September, the next meeting will be held on the second Wednesday next month.

Mrs. J. E. Jayne read a letter from a missionary in Africa, where a child is supported by a member of the auxiliary.

The mite boxes were opened and contained a goodly amount.

Mrs. McLeod appointed the nominating committee—Mrs. Saunby, Mrs. Palmer and Mrs. Lee—to report at next meeting.

The members were much grieved to receive the resignation of our much beloved president, Mrs. McLeod, who has acted continuously for twelve years and who has worked so earnestly and faithfully. Many expressed regret that she has found it necessary to resign, but all know her interest in the great work of missions will not be lessened.

"During the social hour, Mrs. Saunby and Mrs. Lee served fruitade and cake."

AMUSEMENTS

At the West End

Paramount was successful in obtaining motion pictures of the landing of one of the man-eating sharks along the New Jersey coast. This is one of the chief features of the 26th edition of Paramount Pictographs, the magazine-on-the-screen, and will be shown tonight, tomorrow and Saturday at the West End Theater.

The shark is six feet in length, weighs over one hundred pounds, and is of the blue nose, man-eating variety. It was captured on Beachhaven, New Jersey, July 8, the same place where a week previous the same kind of a shark killed a man while in bathing.

The shark was captured by Herbert K. Logan and Eltinge P. Warner, the latter the editor of Field and Stream. The picture shows the baiting of the hook with squid, or ink-fish, Mr. Warner using a twelve and a half ounce split bamboo one piece surf rod with a twelve-thread line. While casting around shore, Mr. Warner chanced to see the shark about 150 feet from where he stood. Three or four people cast into the spot where the shark was seen, and in a few minutes the shark took Mr. Warner's bait. The fish was played with for thirty-five minutes when it was eventually brought within ten feet of the shore, where it made repeated rushes for free itself, making terrible rushes for the deep water, taking out at times as much as three hundred feet of line.

At Clune's

Charles Kay, the gifted young Triangle-Ince juvenile, is given a fine opportunity to display himself as a "fashion plate" in "Honor Thy Name!" the Triangle drama by J. G. Hawks in which Thomas H. Ince presents Frank Keenan and Ray as co-stars, and he makes the most of it. The film is now running at Clune's.

Ray plays the role of Rodney Castleton, a young Southerner, who leaves his home in Dixie to attend college in New York. There he meets and associates with the Bohemian element at the institution and spends most of his time in the cafes. Thus he is enabled to "make a big splash" from a sartorial standpoint.

It chanced that a few days prior to the time Ray was cast in "Honor Thy Name!" he had invested several hundred dollars in the replenishment of his already extensive wardrobe. Hence his appearance in this production will give his admirers a chance to learn with what exacting taste this young actor selects his wearing apparel.

In all, Ray wears eleven different suits of clothes during the production.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 17.—After taking extraordinary pains in arranging for the cremation of his body, "John Kent," who, developments showed yesterday, was William H. Recently, in accordance with his peculiar request, made verbally and then in a letter addressed to the Los Angeles Crematory Association, his body was incinerated at that crematory in this city.

COYOTE LURKS IN AN ORCHARD! BANG! DEAD!

A full grown coyote met death in C. R. Schenck's orchard on East Santa Clara avenue near Spurgeon street last night about 6 o'clock. Schenck saw the chicken-devourer lurking among the trees. Schenck was soon prepared to do battle. With his shotgun he went forth into the orchard and stalked the miscreant. Coyote starts to run. Schenck shoots. Coyote falls dead. Coyote is skinned, and his hide will be converted into a rug. A score of years ago coyotes were numerous along the Santa Ana river and Santiago creek. In recent years they are far from numerous, and it is seldom that one is seen in the orchards.

ATTORNEYS TRY TO GET MOON OUT OF JAIL

Justice Won't Sign Statement For Appeal and Won't Ask For Parole

Although Attorneys Clyde Bishop of Santa Ana and Archie Shreve of San Diego have searched the laws for a loophole by which they might get F. L. Moon out of jail, so far they have failed to find the loophole.

Twice they have tried to get Justice Cox to sign a statement of probable cause by which they might get an appeal. Each time Cox refused.

Yesterday morning Moon was sentenced to ten days in the county jail for speeding at the rate of sixty miles an hour. Juan Fuentes, who was here with him and who formerly lived at Villa Park, had Attorney R. Y. Williams look into the case. Williams advised Moon that he would have to serve his sentence.

Late yesterday afternoon Attorney Shreve and Gerald Cudahy of Chicago, friends of Moon, arrived here, and with Attorney Clyde Bishop made an effort to get Moon free. They proposed that the justice allow an appeal and give Moon freedom on bail pending the appeal. Cox refused to sign a statement of probable cause for appeal.

Attorney Earl Rogers of Los Angeles was interested in the case. He called upon Cox on the telephone, but has not appeared in the case further.

Then Attorney Shreve endeavored to get Moon out on parole. The parole board consists of District Attorney L. A. West, who is in San Francisco, Sheriff Jackson and City Marshal Jer-nigan. Jackson told Shreve that it was the custom of the board to act upon petitions for parole after half the time is served, and to require the petition of the committing magistrate. When asked about the possibility of his signing a petition to parole Moon, Cox declared he would sign no such a petition. He said to allow parole would damage the effect upon speeding.

Habeas corpus proceedings alleging that Cox made some mistake in exact legal procedure may be started this afternoon. Cox is confident that no mistake was made.

For Reckless Driving
John H. Edwards of Santa Ana has sworn to a complaint charging E. C. Gordon of Los Angeles with reckless driving of a motorcycle. Last Sunday Gordon ran his motorcycle into Edwards' machine, on the Westminster boulevard. Gordon was injured.

Says He Has Record
According to information received by Deputy Sheriff Maxwell, fingerprint expert, George Bowen, charged with being a pickpocket, has been arrested a number of times for picking pockets. Once in Los Angeles he got 180 days' suspended sentence and once was ordered to leave town. Yesterday Attorney Guy Eddie of Los Angeles appeared for him. The case was set for August 23 at 2 o'clock.

Says It's Mistake
Guy E. Mansperger of Westminster declares the arrest of Eusibio Aguilar was not justified. Aguilar works for Mansperger, who has a place leased from Frank Skelly. There was some old lumber there, and Mansperger says he told Aguilar he could have it to build a pipe. Skelly had Aguilar arrested. This morning Mansperger put up $25 bail for Aguilar, who was to appear for trial on August 21. Later the case was dismissed.

SPANISH LEGATION IN ARGENTINA IS TO BE RAISED TO EMBASSY

BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 17.—To avoid international jealousy, the Spanish legation in Argentina is to be elevated to the rank of an embassy, such as the United States has, it was learned here today.

King Alfonso's ministry has decided on the step and the approval of the courts is considered certain. When the Argentine legation at Washington was made an embassy and the Washington legation here was similarly elevated, there was much objection here and in Madrid on the ground that Spain, as Argentina's parent land, should have come first.

LONDON, Aug. 17.—A leading hair-dresser here said today that she has discovered that Englishwomen are developing "war wrinkles" on their faces. REFERENDUM MAY BE EXERCISED STORMWATER DISTRICT

Petition Will Be Circulated By Opponents At Once, Ac- cording to Report

Residents of certain districts within the limits of the United Storm Water District will fight the action of the Board of Supervisors with a referendum petition, according to reports coming from those districts.

The law under which the district was petitioned for gives the Board of Supervisors power to form such a district without a vote of those directly concerned. The board has called an election for trustees, to be held September 12.

Opposition to the United district comes from Placentia, Buena Park, Cypress and Harperville, and it is reported that a referendum petition will be placed in circulation at once.

Attorneys representing the protesters of the different sections have had one or two conferences, and if the referendum is not exercised the matter will probably be taken into court on a writ of review.

J. C. Burke of this city represents the Harperville people, E. J. Marks of Fullerton those of Buena Park and Cypress and T. L. McFadden of Placentia is looking after the interests of his neighbors.

Formation of the United district was authorized by the Board of Supervisors the first of this month. The purpose of the organization is to provide funds for improving the east bank of the Santa Ana river from the Newbert Protection District north to a point above Olive.

Opposition to its institution comes from sections where it is contended the lands are not damaged by flood waters from the Santa Ana river.

AT THE COURTHOUSE

SUIT TO FORCE TRADE BROUGHT TO AN END

Signature For Mother Without Her Presence Knocks Out Escrow Agreement

Judge West entered a dismissal in the action brought by William Dodge of Los Angeles to compel J. and Rosa Herzikoff to trade the property at 1608 North Main street, known as the Smith place, for property in Los Angeles.

The case went skidding to the bottom of a legal pit upon an unusual condition. The agreement for the trade upon which suit was brought was signed by Ben Herzikoff, an attorney, for his father and mother. Attorney Hugh T. Gordon for the plaintiff had put on his evidence when a motion for a non-suit was made. It then developed that when Ben signed the document, "Ben Herzikoff for J. Herzikoff and Rosa Herzikoff," his father was present, but his mother was absent. It was contended that while Ben in his father's presence could bind his father, he could not bind his mother. The property here is community property. Attorney

BORDWELL CASE BEFORE COURT THIS MORNING

This morning the hearing of the action brought before the supreme court by Walter Bordwell in an effort to get his name off the Republican primary ballot was begun in San Francisco. The action is against County Clerk Williams of Orange county, as a test case for the state.

Williams returned today from San Francisco. Yesterday his answer was prepared in the office of Deputy Attorney General John T. Nourse in San Francisco, by Nourse and West. Nourse, by the way, graduated from the Santa Ana High School in 1896, the year before Williams graduated.

It was arranged that District Attorney West of Santa Ana should argue the case before the supreme court.

Williams stated that he presented affidavits to show that election supplies have been sent out all over the state, and that it would be a hardship upon many clerks and in some instances almost an impossibility to make the change.

"Attorney General Webb and Deputy Nourse and our district attorney were confident that the name would be left on the ballot," said Williams. "However, the order taking it off may be made."

Bordwell's name appears as a candidate for the Republican nomination for United States senator.

Judge Angelotti of the supreme bench, who has been spending his vacation at the Palisades, near Balboa, went to San Francisco on the same train with West and Williams.

IN THE JUSTICE COURT

ATTORNEYS TRY TO GET MOON OUT OF JAIL

Justice Won't Sign Statement
For Appeal and Won't
Ask For Parole

Although Attorneys Clyde Bishop of Santa Ana and Archie Shreve of San Diego have searched the laws for a loophole by which they might get F. L. Moon out of jail, so far they have failed to find the loophole.

Twice they have tried to get Justice Cox to sign a statement of probable cause by which they might get an appeal. Each time Cox refused.

Efforts have been made to get parole for Moon. These efforts, too, have been without result.

Yesterday morning Moon was sentenced to ten days in the county jail for speeding at the rate of sixty miles an hour. Juan Fuentes, who was here with him and who formerly lived at Villa Park, had Attorney R. Y. Williams look into the case. Williams advised Moon that he would have to serve his sentence.

Late yesterday afternoon Attorney Shreve and Gerald Cuddey of Chicago, friends of Moon, arrived here, and with Attorney Clyde Bishop made an effort to get Moon free. They proposed that the justice allow an appeal and give Moon freedom on bail pending the appeal. Cox refused to sign a statement of probable cause for appeal.

Attorney Earl Rogers of Los Angeles was interested in the case. He called up Cox on the telephone, but has not appeared in the case further.

This morning a second effort to get Cox to sign the statement failed.

Then Attorney Shreve endeavored to get Moon out on parole. The parole board consists of District Attorney L. A. West, who is in San Francisco, Sheriff Jackson and City Marshal Jerigan. Jackson told Shreve that it was the custom of the board to act upon petitions for parole after half the time is served, and to require the petition of the committing magistrate. When asked about the possibility of his signing a petition to parole Moon, Cox declared he would sign no such a petition. He said to allow parole would damage the effect upon speeding.

Habeas corpus proceedings alleging that Cox made some mistake in exact legal procedure may be started this afternoon. Cox is confident that no mistake was made.

For Reckless Driving
John H. Edwards of Santa Ana has sworn to a complaint charging E. C. Gordon of Los Angeles with reckless driving of a motorcycle. Last Sunday Gordon ran his motorcycle into Edwards' machine, on the Westminster boulevard. Gordon was injured.

Says He Has Record
According to information received by Deputy Sheriff Maxwell, fingerprint expert, George Bowen, charged with being a pickpocket, has been arrested a number of times for picking pockets. Once in Los Angeles he got 180 days' suspended sentence and once was ordered to leave town. Yesterday Attorney Guy Eddie of Los Angeles appeared for him. The case was set for August 23 at 2 o'clock.

Says It's Mistake
Guy E. Mansperger of Westminster declares the arrest of Eusibio Aguilar was not justified. Aguilar works for Mansperger, who has a place leased from Frank Skelly. There was some old lumber there, and Mansperger says he told Aguilar he could have it to build a pigeon. Skelly had Aguilar arrested. This morning Mansperger put up $25 bail for Aguilar, who was to appear for trial on August 21. Later the case was dismissed.

SPANISH LEGATION IN ARGENTINA IS TO BE RAISED TO EMBASSY

BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 17.—To avoid international jealousy, the Spanish legation in Argentina is to be elevated to the rank of an embassy, such as the United States has, it was learned here today.

King Alfonso's ministry has decided on the step and the approval of the courts is considered certain. When the Argentine legation at Washington was made an embassy and the Washington legation here was similarly elevated, there was much objection here and in Madrid on the ground that Spain, as Argentina's parent land, should have come first.

SAYS BRITISH WOMEN SHOW 'WAR WRINKLES'

LONDON, Aug. 17.—A leading hair-dresser here said today that she has discovered that Englishwomen are developing "war wrinkles" on their faces. She declared that the little wrinkles around the mouths and eyes of her patrons are unlike any she ever saw before and have appeared only since the war began. They have, she said, entirely changed the average Englishwoman's expression.

REFERENDUM MAY BE EXERCISED STORM WATER DISTRICT

Petition Will Be Circulated By Opponents At Once, According to Report

Residents of certain districts within the limits of the United Storm Water District will fight the action of the Board of Supervisors with a referendum petition, according to reports coming from those districts.

The law under which the district was petitioned for gives the Board of Supervisors power to form such a district without a vote of those directly concerned. The board has called an election for trustees, to be held September 12.

Opposition to the United district comes from Placentia, Buena Park, Cypress and Harberville, and it is reported that a referendum petition will be placed in circulation at once.

Attorneys representing the protestants of the different sections have had one or two conferences, and if the referendum is not exercised the matter will probably be taken into court on a writ of review.

J. C. Burke of this city represents the Harberville people, E. J. Marks of Fullerton those of Buena Park and Cypress and T. L. McFadden of Placentia is looking after the interests of his neighbors.

Formation of the United district was authorized by the Board of Supervisors the first of this month. The purpose of the organization is to provide funds for improving the east bank of the Santa Ana river from the Newbert Protection District north to a point above Olive.

Opposition to its institution comes from sections where it is contended the lands are not damaged by flood waters from the Santa Ana river.

Signature For Mother Without Her Presence Knocks Out
Escrow Agreement

Judge West entered a dismissal in the action brought by William Dodge of Los Angeles to compel J. and Rosa Herzikoff to trade the property at 1608 North Main street, known as the Smith place, for property in Los Angeles.

The case went skidding to the bottom of a legal pit upon an unusual condition. The agreement for the trade upon which suit was brought was signed by Ben Herzikoff, an attorney, for his father and mother. Attorney Hugh T. Gordon for the plaintiff had put on his evidence when a motion for a non-suit was made. It then developed that when Ben signed the document, "Ben Herzikoff for J. Herzikoff and Rosa Herzikoff," his father was present, but his mother was absent. It was contended that while Ben in his father's presence could bind his father, he could not bind his mother. The property here is community property. Attorney

SANTA ANA DAILY REGISTER, THURSDAY EVENING, AUGUST 17, 1916.

COACH HALL NOT WORRIED ABOUT HIS FOOTBALL LINE, BUT—

Backfield May Give Him Some Trouble; Number of Stars to Return to Game

Regarding football prospects at Poly this season, fair material is to return this year. It largely depends upon the return of some doubtful ones.

It is rumored that Stewart has decided to work and not return to school, so much for one hard blow.

But that is not all. Dan Cupid put Captain-elect Goodpasture out of the game with flying tackle. One more knockout registered.

Next, Mexican troubles have eliminated Lee Kenyon, as he is now on the border with Company L. So much for the lost, strayed and stolen.

There is still left a fine start for a strong line. "Cupie" Sproul, one of Southern California's best guards, will be at it when the game starts. There is every reason to believe that Poly's star tackles, Irvine and Best, will be there with the punch again. These three, aided by "Fat" Marsiles and Berkeley Davis, who may play either line or end are all that any school could wish.

Homer Holzgrafe may also be out for football this year and will make good if he does.

Plavan and "Bats" Smith Poly is sure of, two fast sure ends. "Peanut" Trago is all the school has left of its back field of last year's first team.

Last year's seconds must be counted over. Hill, Johnson, Winans, Covington, Morrison, Inger, Best, Johnston and Paul may make a bid for the varsity this fall.

Coach Hall should have little trouble in forming his line, but will have a man-sized job in working up an effective back field.

The weeds are now being cleared from the field and everything made ready to go with a jump when school starts.

"Buy your tickets early," is the advice to the Santa Ana fans.

The Santa Ana Vulcanizing, Ignition and Supply Company has the exclusive sale of these tires for the southern half of Orange county.

GEORGE BLOCK HUMAN BASEBALL, 'TIS SHOWN

NEW YORK, Aug. 17—Introducing Catcher George Block, The Human Baseball. The leagues are tossing George back and forth in every direction. Four times in ten days recently he changed uniforms. St. Joseph released Block to Wichita and Wichita in a few days sent him back. St. Joseph re-signed him and a few days later released him to Milwaukee, which team he has joined.

EUGENE FIELD of Ocean Park training for the National Mile Championship swimming race to be held at Ocean Park Sunday, Aug. 20. In the upper picture he is perfecting his breathing and arm stroke and in the lower he is using the heavy "training board" in practicing the crawl kick.

OCEAN PARK, Cal., Aug. 17—When Vollmer and Cann of New York arrive in Southern California with Champion Lady Langer to participate in the Mile National Open Water Championship race at Ocean Park, next Sunday, they may find themselves up against more than the speedy swimmers of national fame with whose work they are familiar.

The "dark horses" are on their trail. Daily at the beach, a group of the "younger generation" of Pacific coast water dogs are undergoing the most strenuous sort of training in an effort to shape up for the middle distance event. The entries not closing until the latter part of the week, several days are theirs yet in which to lower their mile marks to a point where a break into the fast company would be warranted.

Eugene Fields of Ocean Park, Jerry Witt and Tod Burns of L. A. A. C. are mentioned among the most promising of the sable equines, and all of them are being watched daily by their "touters" in their stunts on the training boards and in the open water dashes.

There are many who predict the setting of a new world's record in the race. The present American record of 24 minutes, 59.25 seconds is held by Langer and is but 44.35 seconds behind the present world time.

The course will be from the end of the Ocean Park pier to a float anchored a quarter of a mile south, two round trips being necessary to complete the distance. Spectators will be accommodated on the beach, pier and float. Parking space for yachts will be on the seaward side of the course.

GARAGE IS HOME OF SAXON AND OLDSMOBILE

One of the neatest garages now in the city is the old Cole garage at 424-426 West Fourth, which has been recently remodelled by the new tenants, C. C. Crawford, Oldsmobile dealer, and Lewis and Lantz, agents for the Saxon.

A partition has been put in across the room about twenty feet back from the front and this room has been nicely fitted up for display rooms and the offices of the two above named firms. A neat railing on either side of the main entrance separates the offices and from the driveway leading to the rear. On the right the Saxon office is located and on the left the Oldsmobile office, with ample room on either side for displaying one or more cars.

A full line of the newest 1917 models of the Oldsmobile "Fours" and "Eights" are now being shown by C. C. Crawford, the local agent, and they are attracting considerable attention among motorists.

Mr. Crawford until recently was connected with the firm of Connick & Hoard and previous to coming to Santa Ana was in the automobile business in Pasadena.

Crawford reports the sale of a new 1917 Oldsmobile Eight to A. F. Smith. This is Smith's second Oldsmobile, he having previously purchased a four-cylinder Oldsmobile.

LOCAL SUPPLY FIRM IS SERVICE STATION FOR THE EVEREADY

Motorsists will be pleased to learn that the Santa Ana Vulcanizing, Ignition and Supply Company has accepted the service station for Eveready storage batteries and in future will render service to those who use this battery. They carry a full line of parts and will gladly inspect Eveready batteries whenever called on to do so.

Care of the storage battery is an important matter and should never be neglected. The Eveready is a guaranteed battery, but its life can be prolonged far beyond the guaranteed limit by having it inspected at frequent intervals.

LOCAL FORD COMPANY OUT OF TOUR MODELS

"Sold out!" A card bearing these words could very consistently be hung up in the salesroom of the Ford Sales and Service Company.

The company hasn't a touring car on the floor and indications are that it will be a week or more before any will be available to local people who have purchased or may want to purchase a car of this type.

The demand for Fords has been extremely heavy in the past few weeks and the factory is unable to supply them as fast as needed.

The local firm has only two roadsters in stock, and it is not expected these will be on the floor long.

2 ACHIEVEMENTS SHOW QUALITY OF PAIGE CAR

Paige men, among them M. O. Ainsworth and son of Orange, are pointing to two recent achievements that throw a flood of light on the mechanical qualities of Paige cars. This summer a well-known Detroit owner drove his Paige Fairfield for at least twelve weeks and for a distance of 5,000 miles with only two quarts of water required for the radiator in addition to the initial filling.

The Detroit's experience covered long road tours that took him to New York, Philadelphia, Atlantic City and other eastern points and then back to Detroit. The radiator cap when he left was screwed down tight with a stillson wrench and could only be removed with the same tool—a task that was performed just twice in the time specified. In each instance the radiator took only a quart of water.

The other achievement was the well known mountain climbing stunt of a Paige Fairfield "Six-46"—the car that battled with blizzards, snow, 40 per cent grades and numerous obstacles in its ascent of Mount Hood, Oregon, reaching a point on the mountain side three miles beyond that attained by any other car.

The fresh achievement—hard travel on a small supply of water—illustrates perfection of cooling apparatus, the nice balance of parts, correct construction and design, friction having been reduced to a minimum. The second achievement—the mountain climbing stunt—illustrates the quality of the clutch and brakes. In battling the snow on an extremely steep mountain side, with not even a trail and canyons and crevasses common dangers, the action of the clutch is of vital importance. It must have great flexibility, velvety action and must engage with such nice precision that there is no jar or jerk—lest the car be plunged into an abyss. When the descent of such a mountain as Mount Hood is made without accident the quality of the brakes is likewise demonstrated, for failure to act, or to hold, or any loss of efficiency would be disastrous.

COUNTY CLUB TO PUT UP DANGER SIGNS AT ALL BAD CORNERS

Work of Posting Blind Roads To Be Started At An Early Date

To warn strangers driving within the confines of Orange county of danger when approaching the main thoroughfares from by-roads and roads will be the purpose of the Orange County Automobile Club in signing work it will soon inaugurate.

At the last meeting of the club, Secretary Ralph and Clyde Walker were empowered to have signs made, and to them was delegated the work of properly signing all roads of the county.

Many of the country roads cross the heavy traffic roads through orchards, and signs warning the traveler of danger of crossing the paved roads or turning onto them at a rapid speed or a sufficient distance to give the driver time to slow down and approach the dangerous thoroughfare with caution. The two men to whom this important work has been entrusted will take steps to have the work done at an early date.

The Auto Club is enjoying prosperity in the way of increased income by an enlarged membership. There are now 600 members and the roll is increasing at the rate of from thirty to thirty-five per month. It is expected this rate of increase will be greater in the next few months and it is the hope of the club officials to have a membership of 1,000 by the first of the year.

The value of the club to automobilists is becoming more and more recognized by machine owners in the county, and they are coming to its support in a way that is most encouraging. The insurance feature is one of the drawing cards, a saving of over $26,000 having been made in the past year by those carrying policies with the club, as against carrying the same amount in old-line companies.

BY AUTO, TOOK TRIP INTO TAHOE SECTION

ORANGE, Aug. 17.—Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Buchanan returned Monday from a motor tour to Big Basin, Santa Cruz county and Lake Tahoe. They left the M. D. Brackney family at Fairmeade, where the latter are visiting relatives. Leaving Orange July 29, the two parties drove up the coast and went into camp at Big Basin. From there they motored to Lake Tahoe, going via Placerville. They came out via Truckee and Donner Lake, after spending a week camping on the shores of Tahoe.

"We found Tahoe a delightful place to camp and remained there instead of going to Shasta Springs as we had intended," said Mr. Buchanan. "There are many fine camping places at Tahoe. The roads all the way were good and the trip may be made easily by almost any machine."

"Our trip was great all the way. We had our own camping outfit, including an ice box, and we were entirely independent of hotels. We slept out 19 nights. It was our first camping out experience but now we think there is nothing like it."

"We ran 772 miles, going up on 40 gallons of gas, and 643 miles returning on 28 gallons. We did not have any trouble at all to mar the trip."

"The worst roads on the trip were five or six miles the other side of Saugus. The Ridge Route I consider one of the finest scenic drives in the country. We certainly enjoyed our outing."

GOOD ROADS AND PROSPERITY

The relation between the above two factors is closer than some people think. The subject is suggested by the observations given us of a man who has travelled about the country considerably this summer, and observed social and economic conditions. He spoke particularly of one section with which he was formerly familiar, and which some years ago was noteworthy for agricultural prosperity and had some vogue as a summer resort.

This summer the farms seemed less well cultivated than formerly. Where there was once an abundance of field crops, now more land was given over to mere pasturage. There were a good many vacant houses.

From nearly all his informants he got the impression that the condition of the roads had something to do with it. It appears that in this section little has been done at highway improvement. In a belated way, a few of the main lines of travel have now been improved. But the cross country roads are almost in a state of nature. In dry weather they are heaps of pulverized dust, in wet weather sloughs, where an automobile would go in almost to the hubs.

Apparently the people who used to come for summer rest to this section now own automobiles. They have become disgusted with a region that gives them so unsatisfactory a chance to use their motors. The farmers have to haul their produce to the railroads over rough and rutty roads that often are nearly impassable. Even when the weather is favorable the trucking takes a long time. At the present high cost of farm help, it is a big charge on their production.

There is a lesson in this for all who begrudge highway taxes. A section that is not improving its roads as rapidly as the rest of the country is getting to be as badly off as a district without any railroads.

UP-COAST DEER HUNTERS BUSY IN DISTRICT 3, IS REPORT

Deputy Says Doves and Quail More Plentiful Than In Several Years

The following has been given out by the Los Angeles headquarters of the Fish and Game Commission.

Up-coast deer hunters in San Luis Obispo county made good use of the early opening in District Three, as Deputy Baader, who covered the hill section on horseback the first of the week for the Fish and Game Commission, examined no less than twenty-two bucks of the legal "forked-horn or larger" age required by law. He reports conditions hard at this time of the year, but does and yearlings are very plentiful. The experienced hunters are doing well, and some already have their limit of two bucks allowed in any one season.

Baader says quail are more plentiful than in years, and doves are so common in the Santa Maria River and Carls Plains country that shotguns can count upon a great shooting season. This is the first year the dove-hunters have waited until September, last year owing to the new law becoming effective August 8, gave them a week's shooting under the "holdover" season. In the south, doves and deer will come on with tree-squirrels the first of September; prospects continuing good, according to field reports from the fish and game patrolmen.

Deer season opened yesterday in the Sierra and Northern California mountainous sections where venison always is most plentiful. Deputy Ober of Inyo county reports Big Pine Creek high and roily still, but no trouble to catch all the fish wanted; and he still is amazed at the number of valley quail, the heavy hatching of locally-bred mallard ducks on the sloughs and ponds, and the number of mountain quail saved in spite of the unusually heavy snowfall of January by the Fish and Game Commission's organized feeding operations when all natural food-supply was buried. Ober predicts splendid duck shooting north of Independence from October 15 until the northern birds come down, and some local hunters already are about to change plans to conform, as valley quail assure any kind of a shot limit sport, so plenty are they everywhere.

In the San Jacinto mountains in Riverside county, tree squirrels are more plentiful than in some time past, while the mountain quail are thicker than in eight years, and would give good sport September 1 were it legal to shoot them in the south; but this is a privilege delayed until October 15 here, although allowed in the Sierras and Northern California as a special dispensation to campers, primarily. There is a good head of forked-horn deer in the San Jacinto this season, owing to the "spike buck" law which protected the yearlings last September.

Sportsmen who take interest in welfare of fish and game are amazed at the data upon their numbers being piled up by the license sales since the Fish and Game Commission took direct charge of distributing these through dealers acting as its agents under a 10 per cent commission arrangement. Although most thought 20,000 the high-water mark for anglers, that mark was passed last week and no cessation in sight, the sale actually speeding up with the coming of the hunting season, and now holding steady at about half the total of hunting license sales. Nearly 6,000 hunters have taken license. An enormous army is thus preparing to take the field against the fish and game, and its increase in the face of such growth in interest devoted to exterminating it is considered a great credit to the system of conservation built up in this state.

The new ladder designed by the Fish and Game Commission's experts to conduct the big breeding trout past the Gibraltar Dam on the Santa Ynez River is being built, and it is certain to solve the difficulty experienced last year when many spawners did not get up to the headwaters. Work of this sort is being done all over the state to aid nature in her efforts to build up a stock of sporting fish in the streams.

Statistics compiled by the Fish and Game Commission upon last year's deer killing in the state show a falling off, due to the "spike buck" law cutting down the chances of getting a deer for the average; but this year, last season's "spikes" are "forked-horns" and the results are showing up. In 1915 Santa Barbara county stood eighth in the list of California counties and returned within 47 of as many as all the other southern counties put together; Sierra county led the state with 665; Tehama 543; Mendocino 500; Shasta 492; Santa Clara 362; Sonoma 360; were high-figure in the total, which was 356 short of 1915, when 8,343 bucks were reported to the State Fish and Game authorities.

Deputy Webb Toms made a hard trip last week into the heights of Paloma Mountain to stock upper Pauma Creek, but brought about 500 of his fish through alive and they were in good shape next morning. Gradually all the places fit to bear fish will rear them for the angling licensees. Plantings will be made as generally as the supply permits.

A world of doves is reported about Escondido and the San Diego back country generally. This will be the biggest season the south has seen in several years.

TULARE COUNTY NOW IS AFFILIATED WITH SO. CALIF. AUTO CLUB

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 17.—Tulare county is now practically an official integral part of Southern California. This was decided at the meeting of the County Board of Supervisors when they voted unanimously to affiliate that county with the Automobile Club of Southern California instead of with the northern neighbor.

Whether or not Tulare county would become the territory of the California State Automobile Association, with headquarters in San Francisco, or of the Auto Club of Southern California with headquarters in Los Angeles, has been a question under fire for some months.

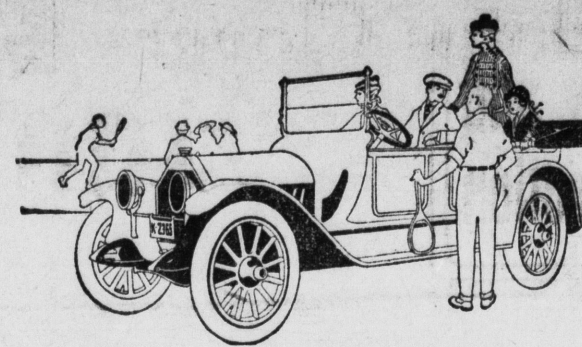

Now the whole matter has been brought to a climax by the unanimous decision of the County Board of Trade in favor of the big Southern California organization, which has already sign-posted the roads of Tulare and Kern counties under contract.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET The first break in the potato market came yesterday when northern sorts were reduced to 10 cents a hundred. This is considered the beginning of a gradual decline which will eventually bring about a normal price list.

The present quotation for Muscats and Malagas is 90 cents to $1.00 a lug, and black grapes are bringing the lower figures of 60 to 80 cents per lug. Peaches are very firm, especially the clingstone varieties. Bartlett pears are also higher, and for really good stock the buyer has to pay 4 cents a pound. Quinces are rather a drug on the market, and the housewife is overlooking a chance in not picking up the fruit at present prices, especially as the price of sugar has dropped 65 cents a hundred since the first of the month.

Berry prices were given another boost yesterday. Strawberries are now selling for 6 to 9 cents a basket, and blackberries for 4 to 5 cents.

Eggs, butter and cheese were all active on the Produce Exchange yesterday morning. An advance of 1 cent a dozen was registered in the price of case count eggs, and creamery butter was also up a cent a pound.

All dealers report alike, and unite in wondering what the future of angling in Southern California is to be with such an increase in one year. Commissioner Connell's plans for an ultimate 20,000,000 fish hatchery to meet the needs of a few years hence begin to appear conservative.

Hunters Must Be Careful Warning is sounded by Deputy Bauder that the hills up San Luis Obispo way, where many will go from here to open the season August first, are very dry, and that greatest care must be exercised by hunters to prevent campfires escaping and destroying the country.

He says deer will be plentiful in San Luis Obispo county this year, and Deputy Abels, across the line in Santa Barbara, predicts a steady increase in the number killing their two buck limits also.

A fine quail season is assured, Bauder believes. The worst thing he has to contend with is the oil-pollution nuisance.

Clam-diggers are very active and have no trouble to fill orders because of favorable tides. The big demand for bait among southern surf-fishermen follow the excellent fishing this summer has created the demand.

GIVES INSTRUCTIONS IN ATTRACTING BIRDS

Bird lovers throughout the land are seeking ways and means of increasing the number of birds and of attracting them to the vicinity of homes. While the basis for this movement is in part esthetic, to no small degree such efforts are based on a growing appreciation of the usefulness of birds as insect destroyers. The increase of interest in wild birds throughout the United States during the past decade has been phenomenal, and organizations having for their chief object the care and protection of birds are numbered by hundreds, if not thousands. Civic leagues and women's clubs have been especially active in attempts to attract birds to city parks and suburbs, with a view to bringing wild life to the doors of those denied the privilege of knowing it in wilder districts.

Two publications issued during the year designed to aid and advance this movement—"Bird Houses and How to Build Them" and "How to Attract Birds in Northeastern United States"—constitute manuals on the means of attracting birds and fill a widespread and continually growing demand. The bulletins discussing methods of attracting birds are the first of a series planned to cover all sections of the United States. Special attention is given to the kinds of fruit-bearing shrubs and trees important as furnishing food for birds.—Report of Chief of Bureau of Biological Survey, 1915.

Should a silent chain be removed from its housing it should not be installed unless thoroughly cleaned. Submerge the chain in kerosene and allow it to remain for about fifteen minutes. When thoroughly clean and dry submerge in a medium grade of oil so lubricant will reach every bearing surface. If the silent chain is exposed when in operation it should be oiled as frequently as possible. Lubricate that side of the chain which comes in contact with the sprockets and not the outside of the chain. Never use hard grease for chain lubrication.

BOQUEL TO DARE DEATH IN LOOP AIR DIVING AT STATE FAIR

'Aerial Insanity' Stunts of Art Smith Will Be Rivalled

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 17.—Startling aviation features which will rival the "aerial insanity" stunts of Art Smith at the San Francisco Exposition will be displayed at the State Fair, which opens here September 1, by Joe Boquel, the French aviator.

Boquel will endeavor to do a loop-the-loop within a loop, a feat heretofore unaccomplished, every afternoon of the eight days of the fair. At night he will blaze his way over the fair grounds, imprints with his loop and dashes being left against the sky by fireworks letters and messages.

Boquel is the aviator who established a new world's record when he looped the loop thirty times at Tanforan track, San Francisco. On the night of July 24 he startled San Francisco by looping the loop twenty times while only 300 feet above Market street, and volplaning down in front of the auditorium.

A new aeroplane, built especially for Art Smith, will be used by Boquel for his State Fair flights. It was in the same biplane he flew over the heart of San Francisco.

Boquel is only one of the many attractions the fair board has booked in its effort to make the 1916 fair the greatest in the history of the state. The largest and best displays of state products ever exhibited at the fair will mark, it is believed, the coming fair as a standard for future exhibitions.

One of the more startling attractions will be a collision of two locomotives, a feature which attracted 50,000 persons to the fairgrounds two years ago. Secretary Charles Paine of the fair board says next month's collision will out-rival the former, as heavier locomotives, weighing about 100 tons each, have been purchased.

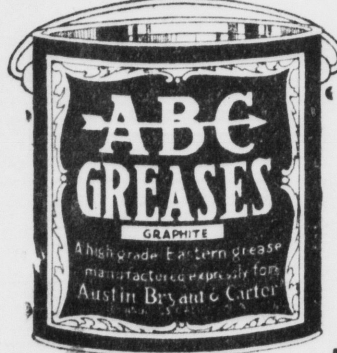

MAKING PROGRESS ON ROADS IN RIVERSIDE

Riverside Press: Finishing touches on several sections of the county highway system are to be started this week, in putting on the surfacing of oil and screenings on the concrete roadbeds.

Screenings are now being distributed, preparatory to oiling the section from Elsinore to Temecula, the contract has just been let to H. Nieman of Elsinore for the oiling and screening from Perris to Elsinore, and work will be started Friday on oiling the section from Ethanac to Hemet. Portions of these roads will have to be closed during this process, compelling detours again, but it only takes a day for the surfacing to set, and only short portions of the highway will be tied up at any one time.

The concreting of the 2 1/2 miles below Temecula to the San Diego county line will be completed next month, and after that is oiled, Riverside county's portion of the inland route to San Diego will be finally completed.

In Santa Ana Canyon. Dirt is flying in lively fashion on the section through the Scully ranch in Santa Ana canyon, below Corona, and the grading there will be completed by September 1.

IS IT ANY WONDER? California Fish and Game:—The number of hunters is increasing from 5 to 10 per cent each year; facilities for getting to what were formerly inaccessible places have increased, it now being possible for a man with an automobile to go one hundred miles or more away from the railroad in a few hours' time; game country in which a gun was never heard a few years ago is now overrun with hunters; ranchers are crowding into all parts of the state and thus restricting the breeding ground of game; guns have been perfected so that now five shots can be fired into a flock of birds almost before they are aware of the presence of the hunter. Is it any wonder that game is diminishing in numbers? The wonder is that there is any left.

WESTERN STARS ATTRACTED TO S. DIEGO MEET

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 17.—The intermountain Association of the A. A. U. will send some of the best track and field men that can be found in the states of Utah, Idaho and Montana to the Far Western Track and Field Meet to be held at the Stadium August 18 and 19. Among those entered are:

Larson, from Brigham Young College, who won the Junior National high jump last year at a height of 6 feet, 3 inches, and who took second to Horine, of the San Francisco Olympic Club and former world's record title holder, who is entered in the broad jump and the hop, step and jump. Larson also took second place in the broad jump in the national championships.

Johnson, winner of the San Francisco Exposition modified marathon race last year, is considered just as good in a five-mile race as at the longer distance of ten miles, the distance at which he won in San Francisco. Oliver Millard, the Olympic games winner, and then only by a scant foot after Millard had led by several yards up to the tape. These two boys should add great interest to the five-mile event.

Other entries from the Intermountain Association are: Durham, 120 high hurdles; Hopkins, sprint; Warden, one mile; Coleman, mile walk; Pomney, 440 yard dash; Barnes, sprints; Hopkins, 220 low hurdles; Kerr, half mile; Durham, pole vault and shot put; Brokmeyer, discs; Fahy, hop, step and jump, winner in Far Western Meet last year.

WOULD STOP DEER HUNTING FOR FIVE YEARS STRAIGHT

Forest Ranger E. W. Searcy of the Elsinore District has made the following recommendations to the State Fish and Game Commission concerning deer:

"That deer be protected absolutely for five years. In case the five-year close season cannot be put into effect I earnestly recommend that the boundaries of the Cleveland Game Refuge, District 24, and the Trabuco division of the Cleveland National Forest be made co-extensive. The Forest boundary markers are well known and it would be an easy matter to post a game refuge marker alongside.

TOURING WEEK BIG SUCCESS IN U. S.

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 17.—Figures given to E. C. Tibbitts, advertising director of the B. F. Goodrich Company, by Goodrich agents and the Goodrich National Touring Bureau, lead him to believe that fully a million people directly interested in automobiling have been reached by the appeal of National Touring Week. Of this number by far the greatest percentage consists of the owners of motor cars and their families who took advantage of the week to depart on vacation tours in their automobiles.

All sources of information confirm this estimate. Men in the thick of the automobile business declare National Touring Week the greatest organized motoring movement in the history of American motordom.

Raymond Beck, chief of the Goodrich National Touring Bureau, states that the call for road maps and road logs would have swamped his corps had it not been anticipated and extra preparation made for it. The noteworthy feature of this unprecedented demand was that the tours invariably requested were trips through the home state of the applicant.

THE LIFETIME OF A STORAGE BATTERY

Many people wonder just how long a storage battery should last with ordinary care, because there seems to be no well defined limit for its life. This question has been covered very well by E. L. Mathews of the local Willard Storage Battery Service Station, who says:

"As compared with other parts and accessories of a motor car, the storage battery, if well taken care of, is very inexpensive to maintain. Its care is a simple matter and consists of only four things.

"First: Keep all cells filled with distilled water to a level one-half inch above the top of the plates. Never fill the cells full.

"Second: Never use a battery in a leaking condition. Take it to a Willard Service Station immediately.

"Third: Test the gravity of all cells with a hydrometer syringe on the first and fifteenth of every month. If any cells are below 1.275 on two successive testing dates, take the battery to a Willard Service Station and have it fully charged.

"Fourth: Never allow the battery to become heated in service above 110 degrees Fahrenheit. Watch the battery for heating one or more times every day in warm weather. If the top connectors feel more than blood warm to the touch take the temperature with a dairy thermometer. If the temperature registers near 100 degrees burn all the lamps on the car while driving. If the temperature reaches 120 degrees the battery may be ruined.

"A well constructed battery like the Willard should last a long time, but because of its electro-chemical nature it will, of course, wear out in time and have to be renewed. It is a popular misconception with a great many motor car owners that a battery will last forever, or at least, as long as the car itself.

"Motor car manufacturers, as well as battery manufacturers, are doing their best to overcome this belief and the Willard Company is being highly successful along these lines through its service stations, which are constantly hammering at the car owner in order to convince him that a certain amount of care is necessary on his part and this care may be greatly lessened by taking advantage of the advice and free inspection which any Willard Service Station offers."

WESTERN OPEN GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP BATTLE IS LAUNCHED TODAY

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 17.—The Western Open Golf Championship tournament began at the Blue Mound country club here today between leading professionals of the country.

Tom McNamara of Boston, present holder of the title, will defend his laurels. Jack Hutchinson of Pittsburg, the pro who won the prize money in the National Open Tournament at Minneapolis this year, also is at the meet.

Other players from the eastern district are: Walter C. Hagen of Rochester, N. Y., former holder of the national open championship honors;

George Sargent of Washington, D. C., and Michael Brady of Wollaston, Mass., who recently won the Massachusetts open title after the play off of a tie with Pat Doyle.

The leading golfers of the Chicago district also are on hand and ready for the big event.

SPARES

Too many motorists in taking long tours depend upon one set of equipment. For example, extra bulbs very often are forgotten. A few dry cells, which cost little and may find excellent application on the road, and may mean the difference between a rest in a hotel or one in the car. Two or three pairs of pliers instead of one should be carried. Do not forget spare tire valves and a hand-tire pump for emergency.

STUDEBAKER DEALERS SEE AUTO SALES AS BEET WAINS ARE SOLD

A carload of Studebaker beet wagons were unloaded yesterday morning by the Wm. F. Lutz Company and immediately were turned over to waiting beet growers who had purchased them. The wagons will be put into service at once, moving the beet crop. Fred Ross says, what looks good to him is that these wagons will haul the beets that bring in the "mazzuma" to buy automobiles with.

A carload of Studebaker automobiles is due to arrive tomorrow and the best part of it is that every one of them is sold.

PAIGE Stamina

And Now—The Paige Fairfield "Six-46" Has Established A New World's Record for Mountain Climbing

On July 6th, a Paige "Fairfield" stock car shattered every existing record for mountain climbing in an automobile.

By one of the most amazing exhibitions of endurance ever recorded, this car battered its way six miles up the rugged, snow-clad side of Mount Hood, near Portland, Oregon, and reached a point more than three quarters of a mile beyond the timber line.

Only the man who is familiar with the dizzy height of Mount Hood can fully appreciate just what this achievement means—but suffice it to say that no motor car made in this country or abroad has ever come within three miles of this astounding Paige record.

For years, the ascent of Mount Hood has been a favorite testing "stunt" for adventurous automobilists. Cars of all makes and all horse powers have done their level best to work their way up the side of this grim old mountain. But, up to July 6th, no car had ever succeeded in reaching a higher point than midway between Government Camp and the timber line.

Then came the memorable trip of the Paige.

This car—a stock model in every respect, set out from Portland with seven passengers on Saturday, June 10th. In two days it had negotiated the gruelling climb to Government Camp, and there was awarded the Pridemore Silver Cup for being the first car to reach the camp this season.

Here, surely, was glory enough for any one car—but, not so the Paige.

Despite dire warnings from the mountaineers and almost unanimous predictions of disaster, the nose of that stout hearted Paige was again pointed toward the clouds and the most thrilling climb in automobile history had commenced.

It is impossible in this limited space to give an adequate description of the terrific struggle which ensued. But the photographs on this page tell a story that will quicken the pulse of every man who has a drop of sportsman's blood in his veins.

Most of the time, the Paige was solidly sheathed in ice, and it was necessary to use every ounce of power in the motor to break through the huge snow drifts which blocked the way. And all this, mind you, while the gradometer registered grades as high as 50 per cent.

Even the mildest flight of imagination will tell you what would have happened if the motor had stalled—if the clutch had slipped—if the car had "laid down" for a minute or two while crossing a crevasse 2000 feet in depth.

But the Fairfield didn't "lay down." It went on and on—up and up—until the timber line had been left far behind. And, when further traction was an absolute impossibility, the "Fairfield" stood at an elevation of 9500 feet above sea level.

Never in the course of your whole experience, will you have occasion to demand so much of a motor car. This ascent of Mount Hood was, we frankly admit, a "stunt" pure and simple—a merciless trial of endurance—an unprecedented test of stamina.

But the "Fairfield" went through like the thoroughbred that it is—without a single mechanical adjustment or replacement of any kind.

So, with absolute confidence, we challenge the entire motor car world to produce an automobile—no matter what the price may be—to equal this achievement of the Paige.

The mountain is still there. Very shortly a bronze tablet will mark the spot which that "Fairfield" reached—9500 feet above the sea.

Is there another make of car in the United States that can stand up under such a gruelling test?
